The Democratic Party

The Democratic party, has been the great predominating party, which has ruled the United States, during the greater part of its existence. It is the party of restriction—the party of the constitution. The constitution is nothing but a series of restrictions or limitations on power. If it had been designed to be a grant of all power by the people of the States, to a central government, a single sentence would have been sufficient to accomplish this object. It would have ordained that "all power should be vested in the Government." "The States are hereby vesting in the Government 'the constitution'." Instead of such a grant of all power, there is a careful enumeration of every power granted. The Democratic party, respected this enumeration. The Federal Consolidation party disregarded it. This party virtually widened out limitations in the constitution, by affirming, that the preamble to the constitution was "to promote the general welfare"—was in fact a grant of all power to accomplish this object. The profligacy of this construction, showed simply the utter recklessness and faithlessness, with which this party was governed. It was the enemy of the constitution; and from the foundation of the Government of the United States, every dissatisfaction and contest which has arisen in its internal operations, has been occasioned by the usurpation and exercise of doubtful powers under the constitution. These usurpations, after being battled with and overthrown on the Alien and Sedition laws, and haunts of the United States—and prohibitory tariffs,—at length reached the institution of slavery in the Southern States. With this law for agitation and usurpation, after some twenty-five years of conflict, it drove the Southern States into secession. It encouraged, and afforded the opportunity, promptly seized upon, to build up the central despotism, which was its aim from the foundation of the government. It has now ten States under military rule; and aims to use them, to subvert all the States of the United States, to a despotism at Washington more odious than that of Turkey or Russia.

The Democratic party, is rising again out of the ruins of the constitution, the detestables have spread over the land; Democrats are once more striving to gather together its broken fragments, and rebuild the grand liberties it established. They must be aware, that the success of their old enemies—the enemies of the constitution—is largely attributable to their faithlessness also. If they had never abandoned their principles, they could never have been overthrown; and the conflicts, which ensued, would never have occurred. Had they only been true to the constitution, as expounded by the Supreme Court of the United States, and declared in their repeated annunciations of principles, there never would have been either secession or war; and the Government of the United States, would this day have been in their hands. Never in the history of parties in free governments, has there been a more signal chastisement for political delinquency, than this party has encountered. Democrats cannot now fail to see their errors—errors not of choice, we believe, but of expedience, covering before the unscrupulous and furious sectionalism of their adversaries. But now, the terrible consequences which have ensued, we trust, have proved the value of the great principles of their party, and the natural excess and ruin which must follow their abandonment in the Government of the United States. It is no longer a matter of speculation, but it is an experienced fact, that the centralizing policy of the consolidationists, is perpetual contest, war and blood.

The only hope for liberty or peace, is in the great principles of the Democratic party, leaving all local or sectional interests under the exclusive government of the States, and exercising only general powers, for the promotion of the general interests of the United States. This is the great lesson of the late war. If disregarded, the fate of the people of the United States is already accomplished at Washington. The Government of the United States is a settled despotism; and the people of the United States, its political slaves; and, inasmuch as men acting in numbers, are always most unscrupulous, because most irresponsible, the forms of free government in the United States, will only render the Government of the United States, the most detestable and oppressive of all despotisms. —Charleston Mercury

Pope.—Pope is doing all sorts of things in his dominions—few, that are sensible, and those only by mistake; the most of them being as senseless as his silly military campaigns. How such a man ever got into the army—how and why, he is kept in—are puzzles unaccountable on any reasonable hypothesis. Sheridan and Sickles have brains; Pope is Pope.—[N. Y. Express]

A Happy Family.—The New York Herald draws the following picture of the present domestic relations of that happy family, the Republican party: The Republican politicians have disgusted the people by their degrading squabbles and quarrels, which threaten to involve the country in all manner of difficulties; and the recent elections are only the forerunners of a reaction against the leaders of the dominant party which will spread through nearly every State in the Union. The whole turmoil and confusion under which we are suffering come from the Republican politicians. The Republican Congress is fighting the Republican President; the Republican Wilson; the Republican Butler assails the Republican Old Blair; the Republican Wendell Phillips attacks the Republican Rosenden; the Republican General Sheridan as soon as he can do so with safety; the Republican Hunnicutt fights the Republican Butts in Virginia. In our own State the Republican Weed is in perpetual hot water with the Republican Morgan. One set of Republican revenue officers denounces another set of Republican revenue officers as thieves, and vice versa. The Republican Old Thad Stevens denounces Republican Senators and Representatives generally, and the whole army of Republican Ben Wade from getting into the Presidential chair.

The editor of the Pensacola Observer is now travelling in Ohio and writes as follows: What I could tell you about negro suffrage, would appear marvellous. It will be defeated in this State at the coming election beyond all question, and by those whom you would least expect—the abolitionists themselves. These are the men whom I denominated negro haters. They will nearly to a man vote against negro suffrage. The Germans, without whom the party would be a mere cipher, vote in a body against it; the Native Americans of '63, who in Republican ranks were the rank and file abolitionists, vote against; and I may safely say that if all men in the North who are opposed to the measure would vote against it, it would receive but about one-eighth of the vote in its favor. If the negroes of the South could but understand the motives of the men who so violently advocate what is termed their rights, they would hesitate long before they went blindly into any party or measure. Although the Democratic party is not in favor of suffrage, I find many men in its fold who desire to see the colored man's condition bettered by judicious legislation and the elevation of the race by education; but they are spoken of by the Radicals as a balance of power which will keep them in office. I do not find that either party here understand the true condition of the South, regarding either white or black, and I think it safe to say that neither party care what becomes of us so that they can get into power, and our best policy seems to be to keep clear of both and when the time arrives organize a National party of our own which will hold the balance of power between these two.

Pay Up!
Yes, the time has arrived. Wheat is ready for market, and you can get a fair price. I expect punctuality, for "Old things are done away."
So call at once and pay.

JACKSONVILLE ACADEMY,
ENGLISH & CLASSICAL.
Prof. W. J. BORDEN, Principal,
Rev. E. J. C. HAI, Assistant.
The exercises of this Institution will be resumed on Monday the 29th inst. in the large and commodious buildings provided for this purpose.
Such additional teachers will be employed as the number and wants of the pupils may require.
The plan of instruction is thorough and practical.
The regulations, framed for the moral and intellectual improvement of the pupils, are mild, though positive, and are rigidly enforced.
The location is in the midst of a healthy and refined community.
The expenses are moderate—from $15 to $30 per session for tuition, and from $15 to $20 per month for good board in private families.
Pupils received at any time and charged from the date of admission to the close of the session.
All interested are invited to give this Institution a rigid scrutiny, and if found worthy, to give it also their patronage and support.
For further particulars address the principal, or

"WOOD'S" PRIZE MOWERS AND REAPERS!
Over 60,000 manufactured and now in use in this country and Europe.

These world renowned machines were awarded the first prize, Ten Pounds Sterling, at the Great Quadrennial Trial at Plymouth England, July, 1865, and at the Great National Field Trial, held at Auburn, N. Y., in July, 1866, the First Premium, GRAND GOLD MEDAL.

The PRIZE MOWER,
While it retains all the advantages which has made it so universal a favorite, is greatly improved by the addition of Steel Lined Guards,
New Pitman Connections,
Stronger Knives,
Spring Seat,
Adjustable Folding Shoe,
Making it a perfect machine. The lightest draft, the most durable, and at the same time the most simple, and best cutting machine in the world.

The SELF-RAKE REAPER!
Is justly called the "Victor of every contest" and is constructed on the most scientific principles. The new Mowing Attachment gives general satisfaction and makes one of the most convenient combined Self-Rake Reapers known, and we fully warrant it.

The HAND RAKE REAPER,
Is at the same time the cheapest and the best of its kind ever offered.
It cuts a swath five feet wide in Reaping, and four and a half feet in Mowing. As a Mower it is equal to the best Folding Bar Machine in use. The ease with which it is managed, and in changing from Mower to Reaper, or vice-versa, will at once recommend it.

WILLIAM J. SHARP'S
Improved Billiard Tables,
With his PATENT CUSHIONS,
Well known to be superior to any now in use.

THE great popularity of SHARP'S IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES has rendered it necessary to make arrangements, in order to supply the increasing demand, and he is now prepared to fill any order with which his patron, or the public generally may favor him.
W. J. Sharp having had practical experience for nearly twenty years, in the manufacture of Billiard Tables, and having made a number of valuable improvements, he guarantees a Table, with for elasticity of touch, mechanical elegance of appearance, will challenge competition.
His newly invented patent Cushions having been pronounced by the most competent judges to be superior to any now in use, he is enabled to furnish the best Billiard Table manufactured in the United States, and sustain the name which Sharp's Tables so justly have acquired.
Balls, Cues and Trimmings constantly on hand. Old Cushions repaired at short notice. Orders by mail punctually attended to. Send for descriptive circular and price list.

YOUR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO
THE MANHATTAN PAINT OIL,
90 Cents Per Gallon.
Invented by G. DURVEE, M. D. Chemist of New York.
Who has spent several years experimenting for a substitute for Linseed Oil.

It is well known that alumen gives to oil from linseed all its lasting virtues; therefore, a chemical combination of alumen with any other oil would make it equally valuable.
Knowing the prejudice against a new oil, especially after the odium of many failures, we have awaited severe tests before entering the arena. Neither shall we make vain promises or boast, but leave the merits of our oil with those who use it. We dare say this much, that, after two years' trial, in all weather, this oil has been found as indestructible as the best boiled linseed oil.
It may be thinned with turpentine or raw linseed oil.
With lead it dries in six hours!
With zinc it gives the lustre of Damar varnish.
For a roofing oil it will be found just the thing.
The price is about two-thirds that of linseed oil.
It will not injure the most delicate colors, nor will it crack or peel off.
Furniture Manufacturers will like it for first coats to varnish on.
Boiler makers and Iron Finishers will here find a substitute having the appearance of copal varnish.
Ship Painters are asked to give it a trial.

Among the many parties who have tried it we take pleasure in referring to
The Mosely Corrugated Iron Roofing and Bridge Co., of Boston & New York.

New York, Nov. 16, 1867.
To MANHATTAN PAINT OIL CO.
I take pleasure in stating that I have used your Paint Oil on wood and iron, with different kinds of paint, and have no hesitation in saying that, in my opinion, it makes a better coating than linseed, and that, for all purposes where exposed to weather, is much preferable.
Yours, J. T. WILBURN.

About this time last year, in consequence of the scarcity of money, we proposed to our patrons that we would take various articles of produce at the market price for subscriptions due and in advance. But it turned out that the crops failed and produce was about as scarce as money; consequently we have not collected during the last year ten per cent. of the subscription due; but we have waited patiently until the present time. Now we renew the same proposition. Take wheat, flour, corn, tallow, beeswax, &c., and as crops are abundant, we know that those who desire to pay can pay, and if they do not, we can come to no other conclusion than that they never intend to do so; and will be compelled to discontinue their papers and collect the amount due the best way we can. We know this proposition is not unreasonable, and hope it will not be unheeded in a single instance, without some satisfactory reason given.

The Election.

The farce of the "so-called" election,
according to the Radical programme,
came off at this place on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday last, and resulted as follows:

For a Convention,	651
Against a Convention,	451
Conservative Ticket,	475
Radical Ticket,	627

The election was conducted in all respects in the most quiet and orderly manner: indeed we have never witnessed one more so. Not the slightest disturbance of any sort occurred.

The negroes monopolized the polls almost exclusively on the first day, and voted almost unanimously for the Radical ticket, not more than three or four against it, out of about 450 or 475.

For the information of those at a distance, it is proper to state, that this election is by no means a fair test of the political complexion of Calhoun county.
There was but little over half the registered vote, which was 2100, given in,
and of the remaining 1000, it is believed by the best judges, that not more than 100 were Radical; so that if all had voted, the Conservative majority in this county would have been at least 650. From what we thus far hear from other counties, the falling off of the registered vote is greater than in this,
which renders the calling of a Convention doubtful.

It will be seen by reference to another column, that Col. P. Rowan is now receiving a large and well selected stock of Dry Goods, which he offers to his patrons and the public at his usual and very reasonable rates.

Teachers Meeting.

We are requested by the Secretary, to call the attention of Teachers to the fact, that on Saturday the 12th inst, the "Teachers' Institute" of Calhoun county meets at Cross Plains. A full attendance is earnestly desired. Teachers from other Counties, and all persons interested on the subject of Education are respectfully invited.

E. L. Woodward is now receiving a large and well selected stock of Goods, suitable to the market and the season. This long established and reliable house needs no commendation from us. Call soon and get first choice.

Our Circuit Court, which has been in session near two weeks, is about drawing to a close. Hon. B. T. Pope has presided with his usual ability, dignity and impartiality, heretofore referred to in this paper, and which has given such universal satisfaction wherever he has presided. John L. McConnell, Esq., though a new Solicitor, discharged his duty with marked ability and to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Our Circuit Clerk, G. B. Douthit, and Sheriff, S. D. McClellan, have discharged their duties with that promptitude and fidelity which have ever distinguished them. The people of our County may well consider themselves fortunate in having such competent and faithful officers.

Life and Campaign of Gen. R. E.
Lee.—We are requested by Mr. M. T.
Ledbetter, the Agent for the above named work, to inform subscribers that he will be ready to commence the delivery of copies by the 15th Oct and he expresses the hope that all will be ready with the money to pay for them.

See change of place of Land Sale by James D. Thompson, Adm'r, from Jacksonville to Edwardsville, Ala.

LARGE POTATO.—Mr. S. D. Black of Choccolocco Valley, in this county, deposited at our office this week, a yam potato of this year's growth, measuring 12 inches in length, 1 1/2 in circumfer-ence, and weighing 4 1/2 pounds.

If any one can beat this we will duly note the fact.

Mr. Black it seems, is not only a worthy, energetic and enterprising citizen, but also a successful farmer.

Messrs. S. & J. T. Morgan, Grocery and Commission Merchants of Oxford, Ala., give notice in this paper, that they keep constantly on hand a fine stock of carefully selected Groceries: And also, that they are prepared to pay tax on Cotton, and attend to its shipment to Selma, Mobile or New Orleans.

We take pleasure in bearing our humble testimony in favor of this excellent, competent, reliable, energetic and justly popular firm, and commending them to the confidence and patronage of the public, with the assurance that all who entrust business to their care, may rely upon its being transacted with the utmost promptitude and fidelity.

Capt. ALFRED HEDBERG, 15th U. S. Inf'y, arrived at this place, a few days before the election, and remained until its close. By his uniform gentlemanly bearing, and confining himself strictly to the impartial discharge of his duties, he won the respect and esteem of many of our citizens. No doubt he left our Town with impressions more favorable than those calculated to be made by the many false and slandrous tales of which we have been made the victims. His men also conducted themselves in a manner creditable to them and their commander.

REMEDIES FOR FARMERS.—All heads of families should bear in mind the great importance
of selecting genuine remedies for the use of their families. Buy with reason, judgement and discretion. Buy those which are prepared by physicians who are experienced in Southern treatment. Buy those which you think are best. The "Great Southern Preparations" are a class of family medicines prepared specially
for the Southern people by Southern physicians. See advertisement.

Longstreet Academy.

MR. EDITOR: The cause of education deserves a place of first importance in our minds at this time, for it is only through the medium of intellectual cultivation and superior intelligence that our people can expect to avert the impending evils that so seriously threaten to forever destroy our peace and happiness.

We are glad to see the people generally giving unusual attention to the instruction of the youth of the country.
Last week I visited the school of Prof. Ragan, to witness the examination exercises, which were conducted during the 25th & 26th ult., attended by a large throng of interested spectators.

Of Mr. Ragan's abilities and uniform success as an instructor it is unnecessary to speak; his reputation is too well established to need any commendation in this. And we were exceedingly gratified to see that in the course of a most rigid examination, not at all confined to text books, our highest expectations were fully realized.

The instruction imparted at this school seems to have been of the most solid and useful kind. We were surprised and rejoiced to see in both young ladies and gentlemen such evidences of thoroughness and proficiency in every branch of study, especially the classics and higher branches of Mathematics.
There was throughout the examination,
on the part of the students an outspoken manliness of expression, denoting great freedom of thought, showing that the students at Longstreet Academy had been taught to reason for themselves and not to rest entirely upon a teacher's explanations or remain satisfied with repeating, parrot-like, the printed text.

The compositions and speeches evinced taste, discernment, and style of thought beyond what we could have expected, and we have no doubt that the parents of all left perfectly satisfied that the utmost pains had been taken with their children, and a large reward

—while the streaming eyes and heartfelt sighs of many of the scholars told how tender were the ties that bound the loved preceptor to his charge.
May every success attend the devoted teacher wherever his lot may be cast

STATE OF ALABAMA, CALHOUN COUNTY.

To his Honor Judge Pope:
The Grand Jury of Calhoun County, empanelled for the Fall Term of the Circuit Court now in session—feeling that they have discharged the duties incumbent upon them—beg leave to present the following brief summary
in general report:

We have made personal inspection of the condition of the County Jail, in regard to its sufficiency for the safe keeping of prisoners, their accommodation,
health, &c.—and find every thing connected therewith in good order and perfect condition, so far as we are capable of judging. A like inspection has been made of the Offices of Judge of Probate, County Treasurer, Clerk & Sheriff's Offices—embracing all the books, bonds and records of the various county officers; and the Grand Jury take great pleasure in saying that every thing connected with these Officers in their Official capacity, have been executed and kept in a neat and business-like manner.

With trifling exceptions, the Appor-tioners report the roads throughout the entire county as being well worked,
and the majority of them posted with finger boards placed at the proper places.
The Greensport road is reported to be in good condition, except a portion near the river, where a ledge of solid rock crosses the bed of the road, rendering the same almost impassable. The Overseer says the obstruction cannot be removed and rendered passable, except by blasting.

The Road leading from Jacksonville to Rabbit Town, embracing that portion lying between the Town and the top of the mountain east, is reported to have no Overseer, or as having had no work done upon it within the last two years.

It is encouraging to see the citizens of all classes taking a deep interest in the subject of education as well as the moral of the country, and although reports are in circulation, that the civil law can not and will not be sustained—we are gratified to know, that a respectable majority are prepared to yield a ready and willing obedience to the same.

We cannot close this report without giving an expression of thanks to his Hon. Judge Pope, for the clear and lucid exposition of the criminal law, given in charge to the Grand Jury.

Our worthy and accomplished Solicitor, John L. McConnell, merits and well deserves like commendation at our hands, for the prompt and ready discharge of all his duties connected with the Grand Jury.

Our thanks are hereby tendered to Court, Bar, and all the Officers connected with the same, for the courtesy and consideration extended to us, while in the discharge of our various duties.

LUCIUS C. MITCHELL,
Sep. 28, '67. Foreman Grand Jury.

"Seymour," the New York correspondent of the Mobile Advertiser, speaks in the following confident terms of the prospects of Democratic victories in the approaching elections in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey:

Society does not care for politics, but politics will, nevertheless, engross more attention than any other matter till the November election are over. New York will soon be in the heat of a great campaign, from which her Democratic sons are confident of coming forth as victors. This confidence grows stronger every day. That the Radical army will be routed, horse, foot and artillery, is firmly believed by the longest Democratic heads in the State. The glad tidings from Maine, following so close on the heels of the glorious triumph in California, have given fresh hope and courage to the Conservatives of New York, and inspired them with a resolve to make the second Tuesday in November a Waterloo to Radicalism in the Empire State. If the Democracy emerge from the struggle with less than ten thousand majority, their leaders will be disappointed.

New Jersey, some of her sons say will also right about face and march back to the Democratic line. The Democracy of the State are fully aroused and will go into the canvass with a vim that is sure to carry them through to victory. Unless all the calculators are at sea in their estimates, the small Radical majority of last year will be utterly wiped out and the State placed firmly on the platform of Conservatism. New Jersey is not a large State but she has been a gallant one, and will prove next November that the old blood still runs in her veins.

Pennsylvania is believed to be all right. The apathy which Thad Stevens says prevails in the Radical camp is even greater than he has represented
it. Letters to prominent Radicals here from leaders of the party there present a most lugubrious view of the prospect in the Keystone State. They declare that the voters have no heart in the canvass; that unless they are stirred up before election day, the State will slip from the Radical party. The Democrats, on the contrary, are eager for the fray, resolved to win the victory, and confident of doing so. Such, at least, is the tenor of advices from leading Democrats in Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

LATEST NEWS.

General Pope, by his order No. his order No. 49, punishes Southern papers, by taking away their business, people and to the Constitution of the United States. Will the people allow their champions of the Press to be starved out by General Pope?—Mobile Adv.

FROM CONSTANTINOPLE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28.—The Sultan refuses the Czar's Cretan demands.
The Czar declines meeting the Sultan personally, having nothing agreeable to say. A large party in Greece is for the King's deposal and the proclamation of a republic under the protectorate of or annexation to the United States.

FLORENCE, Sept. 28.—Garribaldi's partisans are tumultuous in various parts of Italy.

It is reported the King is about proclaiming an extraordinary session of Parliament.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for August and September represents the wheat crop to be not as large as anticipated in July. Corn promises a fair crop if frosts do not injure it. The army worm made its appearance in the cotton fields about the 1st inst. and caused considerable apprehension in some sections for the safety of the crop.
Potatoes are rotting badly in many large potato growing States, and the yield will be less than last year. Owing to the severe weather last winter the wool clip this year is from five to ten per cent.
less than last year.

Jas. M. Murphy, a Nashville negro, has been appointed by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate a member of the Capital police force.

Richmond, Sept. 30.—The split in the Republican party here is becoming marked. Ward meetings called tonight are repudiated by Mr. Hunnicut, the acknowledged leader of the blacks,
who in a speech this evening warned the negroes to beware of the Northern dough-faces who are settled among them and pretend to be Republicans.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 30.—One Bradley, a Boston mulatto who has been several times arrested by the civil and military authorities for swindling negroes and exciting disturbances, had gathered here some thousands negroes to-day, mostly from the country. He harangued
the negroes against white men,
and favored a distribution of the lands.
A conservative negro interrupted him when a melee occurred. A large force of the police charged through the crowd,
when the military came to their aid,
and both together cleared the square.— Muskets were brought in by a large band of country negroes, and taken by the police and turned over to the military. A large proportion of the colored population disapproved of Bradley and threatened to assassinate him.

The entente cordiale between the city government and military affords great satisfaction to all classes, except the narrow-minded adherents of Bradley.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—Interments
from fever for twenty four hours, 6 o'- clock Sunday morning 61. From that time to this morning 67.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Secretary of the Treasury, in considering the act of Congress of March 2nd, 1867, has issued the following to-day:

Notice is hereby given that the Assistant Treasurer, at New York, is prepared and has instructions to issue three per cent. certificates in denominations of five and ten thousand each in redemption of compound interest notes, maturing in October and November next.— The accrued interest on all notes presented for such redemption will be paid in currency.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—The funeral of Gen. Butler Price yesterday was one of the largest ever seen here. The ceremonies took place in the First Church, Dr. Boyle officiating.
The remains lay in state all morning,
and were visited by a very large number of citizens.

NEWARK, Oct. 1.—A boiler exploded, killing two men.

Boston, Oct. 1.—A linseed oil factory and a quantity of oil were burned to-day. Loss $30,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Gen. Mower telegraphs to Gen. Grant that the election passed off quietly throughout Louisiana.

The Treasury clerks now work from nine to four o'clock.

Revenue receipts to-day $1,761,000.

The Crow Indians refuse to meet the commissioners at Laraine in November.
A thousand pounds of bullion, recently shipped from God Hill Nevada, while in the Merchants Union Express safe at Brownsville, Nebraska, was plundered of $15,000.

The Massachusetts Democrats nominated John Quincy Adams for Governor, and Geo. M. Stearns for Lieutenant Governor.

Two hundred and nineteen towns are represented by 983 delegates. Unusual enthusiasm prevails.

Richmond, October 2.—Congressman Schenck addressed the blacks this evening. He said he spoke as one who had power, when he said the Southern States had been in the Union long enough. They had given no rights to the blacks, and would be kept out till they did.

Johnson, if guilty, would be impeached, and even with the aid of the Maryland rebel militia, which was arming he would be powerless to do anything.—
The men of the North are ready at the tap of the drum to quell him and his militia.

The Yellow Fever in Texas.—A letter dated Galveston, 6th instant, referring to the ravages of the yellow fever,
says:

The type of disease is very malignant. Several of our best physicians, among them Drs. Rowe, Taylor, &c., of the United States Army; Drs. Hanna and Gault, of the Galveston Medical College Faculty, fell victims, and are in their graves. Others of the profession are down with it. The streets are nearly deserted; business is at a stand; the city wears the aspect of a continuous Sabbath; gloom has settled upon the countenances of many you meet; the churches are deserted; the firing of the United States army and navy signal guns, the ringing of all bells and other noises have been stopped authoritatively during the epidemic, not to disturb the feverish, whom we count by thousands and in every house. Nurses and physicians are worn out, and scarce.—
The suffering is very great, and much of it remains untold—only known to him who scourges us in His wrath.

THE OUTRAGE AT CAMDEN, ARK.—
The Monroe (La) Telegraph says:

"We learn from a reliable source that the commanding officer at Camden has proposed to compromise with the proprietor of the Eagle by refitting their office and paying all damages, the proceeding to stop there. Referees have the matter in charge."

The Vicksburg Times of the 15th,
has the following on the same subject:

"We have had the pleasure of meeting in our city Dr. Hobson, the Editor of the Constitutional Eagle, the paper which Major Pierce robbed & destroyed at Camden, Arkansas. We are in possession of some further information in relation to the Camden outrage, which indicates that the whole thing was done under the auspices, advice and orders of Colonel Gilbert, commandant of the post."

The steamers Dean Richmond and Commodore Vanderbilt collided near Roundout, on the Hudson river, on Thursday. The loss of life by her sinking is considerable; at least twenty persons are known to have been drowned. The catastrophe has cast quite a gloom over New York.

The Soldier and the Politician.

We have repeated the expression of approbation with which the Southern people regard the soldiers composing the army of occupation. We have now to add our sincere sympathy for the suffering and death which has dominated their ranks. The bulletins from the front must create at the North as much anxiety as when the hostile armies were confronting each other. The sons of Illinois and Ohio are stationed in the midst of an epidemic more deadly than the battle field. They are subjected to that most terrible test of discipline. They are under fire from an invisible and invulnerable foe. They can neither avoid nor return it. They must "stand fast and carry arms" under the deadly arrows which fill the air around them. Some of their leaders have fallen at their posts, as they often did in the war. General Griffin is no more. General Hancock has without range of the epidemic. It is no impatience on his courage. No commandant of an army corps should expose himself unnecessarily at the front. Such is the state of the army here. The war has not ended. No armed forces oppose them. The people are amicable. The soldiers go and come singly or in squads, by night or day. If they receive the same attention with any other stranger. Now, why do these men bear this painful trial? Politicians who desire to create and direct a power in the South inexorably demand that these warriors should stand guard and enforce the desired ideas and for this a war in barracks is carried on between the soldiers and the yellow fever. There are also army contractors deeply interested in the continued expenditures which result in profit to themselves. Now, while these soldiers are doing their duty, where are those who never came to the front while the fighting was going on? Holding conventions in the cool climates—writing violent articles against the South—preparing credentials for office or contracts—stimulating the most unkind spirit between the people who should now be united, if there be sympathy for human suffering left on earth. Why, if these men could lift the black pall which the angel of death has laid down over our devoted city, and see 5000 victims of all nationalities and sectionalities stricken by the indiscriminating fatality—could they note the loyal New Englander reposing in the same cemetery with the soldier of Confederate scars, or feel for the incredible number of the innocent of all political opinion or action left destitute and bereaved, they would pause in their incendiary career for very shame. Any vestige of manhood would shrink at the cowardice of subjecting others to dangers to which it was not exposed. Any remnant of humanity would blush to persecute a people pursued by an enemy only less inexorable than a political foe.

We trust that this last bitter ingredient in our cup of sorrow may be made medicinal by the mercy of Providence—that it may dispose the hearts of good people to peace. We know the world is not a together evil. We already feel the effect of distant sympathy. The North has sent money to the aid of the sufferers. The Howard Association has acknowledged the noble response of the whole country. Let us hope that with an abatement of the scourge, we may find a milder type of sectional feeling; that the war may be declared ended with the epidemic, and that in future the American soldiers will not be required to endure death that the American politicians may make money.

N. O. Bulletin.

Grant and the Radical Catechists.
A special dispatch to the N. Y. Herald, dated Washington, Sept. 17, 11 o'clock P. M., says:

The attempt of the radicals to get Gen. Grant to publicly commit himself in favor of their ticket at the approaching elections has utterly failed, and the leading politicians from those States about to hold elections, who came here for that purpose, have gone home in disgust. Others, however, are expected here, who are supposed to have more influence upon Grant. Among these is Washburne, of Illinois, who has already been telegraphed to come here and summon the General to the political confessional. These anxious inquirers say Grant talks freely on every subject except politics. When that is introduced he is willing enough to hear the opinions of others, but very careful to give none of his own. It has been said that Grant kept away from the Antietam celebration in order to avoid the catechetical ordeal he would be certain to meet with in such an assemblage of politicians.

Rumored Alliance of Russia with the United States.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, at St. Petersburg, writing on the 28th ultimo, says:

"The Swedish squadron, which came to Cronstadt the other day, was received very cordially, and the formal compliments paid to the officers by the Russian authorities contrasted strongly with the cordial enthusiasm shown to the American squadron under Admiral Farragut. The American officers were invited to dinner and fete every day, and the Grand Duke Constantine gave a magnificent banquet in their honor in his palace at Calowak. The splendour of this reception gives some colour to the rumour, which is very prevalent here, that an alliance is contemplated between Russia and the United States in view of certain contingencies which is supposed be, it is certain that large quantities of arms have been purchased in the States by the Russian Government, and that all the military arsenals are hard at work. It is expected that war will be originated by an insurrection of the slaves in Turkey with whom the most open sympathy is expressed, both here and at Moscow. Committees have been formed with the avowed purpose of assisting the Slavonian subjects of the Porte to liberate themselves from its rule, and large sums have already been subscribed in aid of the 'Bulgarian insurrection.'

A Brigand Story.

The following Turkish brigand story is related by the Levant Herald:
A peasant returning from Broussa with seven liras in his pocket, which he had got for the sale of his sick coconuts, was stopped by a band of outlaws, who demanded his money or his life. The poor man with tears gave up his hoard, and told the chief of the band, who represented himself as Monoli, that he must have changed character of late as he was not formerly in habit of plundering the poor. The leader, however, paid little heed to his appeal, but ordered the peasant about his business. The latter was too glad to hurry off as fast as possible, but he had got no more than a mile or so on his way when he was surrounded afresh by eighteen as sturdy rascals as ever waylaid a traveler.—This time it was the real Monoli and his men, the chief expressed the greatest indignation that any other interloper should have ventured to assume his name. Guided by the peasant he soon found out the spurious band, and let them go after delivering up their arms, but the chief he tied up to a tree and deliberately hacked in four pieces.—From the robber's purse Monoli disgorged the seven liras, which he gave back to the peasant, as also three liras more which were in it, and sent him off. The poor fellow returned to his village more dead than alive, but richer after all by three liras than he expected to have been, and gave his fellow-villagers a stirring account of what had befallen him.

What the Radical Leaders Advocate.

An exchange says the leading Radical of the country advocate a national debt; increased taxation; antitrust bonds for the rich; high protective tariff for New England manufacturers; shipplaster for the poor and gold for the bondholders; negro mongrelism at the polls and in the jury box; disfranchisement of foreign voters; military satrap, at the expense of $100,000,000 to the general government, instead of civil States respectively; negro Congressmen and negro Senators; negro judges and jurors; negro Vice-President; trial by military commissions instead of civil courts; the right and power of Congress to change our present form of government without the consent of the people; the right of Congress to abolish State governments and establish a military despotism over half the Union; the right of Congress to force negro equality upon all the States, regardless of the will of the people.

Gen. Grant's father addressed a Democratic meeting in Cincinnati last Friday night. Some of the Grant family are not of the opinion that "the Democratic party was dead and buried long ago."—Mobile Advertiser.

The Revival Meeting at the Methodist Church in this place has been in progress nearly five weeks. This meeting is without parallel in the history of this particular Church. There has been a great revival in the membership and many bear testimony that these are the happiest meetings they ever attended. The new converts—some seventy in number—include several middle aged persons and some whose heads have already blossomed for the grave.

These meetings are exceedingly interesting even to those who feel no particular concern upon the subject of religion, and the house continues to be crowded, especially at night. On Tuesday night over a hundred persons went forward to the altar for prayer.

Religious Notice.

The Jacksonville Bible Society at a late meeting employed the Rev. E. B. McClellan as Co-pastor for Calhoun county, and other parts of the country, that he may be able to see and give practical aid to visit. We ask of all, who love the bible, the truth it contains and the fruits that grow out of its practice, to give him liberal contributions as well as a warm-hand reception, thus enabling the society to extend this important work. Many families are without the bible and have no money to buy, these should be furnished; some are without, not for the want of money, but from the want of an opportunity to buy, these should have a Colporteur.

We have a fine lot of bibles and testaments and can get more—with the money. Help to distribute these, help to buy more, and circulate them. Help, the people are needy—the society alive—willing; you will do nothing more than your duty.

CHAS. KING, Cl'm'n, Corresponding Committee. Sept. 5, 1867.

freedom from complication and liability to get out of order, and if it should, can easily understood in all its parts, and repaired or put in order by any lady using it. It works smoothly, neatly and rapidly, and is warranted by the manufacturers to perform good work for three years. It is cheap and we have little doubt but it will be found more useful and valuable than many descriptions of machines which cost more than three times its price.

Mr. J. M. Forbes, of Oxford, is agent for the sale of these machines in this State, and will take the names of persons who may desire them, and deliver the machines at any specified time. Mr. F. will pass through the country, and exhibit a model machine, and in his absence, a note addressed to him at Oxford will be attended to.

CHILLS AND FEVER.

Can the Chills be cured in every instance without affecting the head? Is there no medicine that will satisfy our people, that will permanently eradicate all forms of Chills and Fever? Yes, it can be done. What is its name and where can it be had?

KING OF CHILLS

Is to-day, the most worthy and substantial Chills medicine now before the Southern people. It never fails to give the most perfect satisfaction in every respect. Every plantation should buy one dozen bottles at a time.

BILLIOUS FEVER.

Which is so common on all our rivers, lakes, bays, swamps, etc. can be easily cured by using our "King of Chills," which immediately arouses the Liver, closes the Stomach, opens the bowels, and never fails to cure the worst forms of Chills and Fever. Chills are so easily cured by its use, that it is folly to suffer any longer.

FARMERS & PLANTERS.

Everywhere could save much time and money among their hands by keeping a constant supply of King of Chills on hand, as it makes quick and permanent cures without affecting the head, and is a powerful tonic to prevent a return.

We appeal to all who suffer with chills.

DROMGOOLE & CO.'S

English Female Bitters.

A beautiful medicinal compound, prepared by a class of regular and experienced physicians who have been practicing medicine in this State for twenty years.

This Female Bitter is a powerful Uterine Tonic, arousing the Womb to a healthy action, thereby curing painful, suppressed or irregular menstruation, filling of the Womb, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Ulceration and Irritability of the Womb, Swelling and Giddiness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Sick Headache, Uterian Disease, Derangement of the Kidneys and Bladder, and all those peculiar complaints affecting

WIFE, MOTHER and SISTER.

Read a few extracts from letters.
"English Female Bitters cured me of falling of the Womb." "My wife cured her of Leucorrhoea and she sold the remainder." "Send one bottle English Female Bitters for Palpitation and Sick Headache." "Three bottles of English Female Bitters cured my wife of Painful Menstruation." "O, I feel so much better after using English Female Bitters, it strengthens me." "Four bottles of English Female Bitters cured my wife of Ulceration of the Womb."

BLOOD and BONES.

Are composed of certain materials which become greatly changed from the effects of many constitutional diseases, such as Skin Diseases, Eruption on the Face, broken Down Constitution, Shattered Nerves, Effects of Mercury, Scrofula, Glandular Tumors and Swellings, old Ulcers, and Sores of long standing and all that class of diseases where the blood has become impure, and this condition of your blood must be changed, altered, before you can expect to get well, and for this purpose nothing is better than

CONSTITUTIONAL MONARCH.

Which immediately purifies the blood and restores health.

This Blood Purifier is composed of Stillage, Yellow Dock, Sarsaparilla, Burdock and (iodine Potash), and all persons know them to be good, all physicians say so, as well as those who speak from experience.

KIDNEY and BLADDER.

Affections which are so common among all classes in the Southern climate, are immediately cured by the use of Dromgoole & Co.'s Fluid Extract.

Bearberry, Cubeb and Buchu

It will cure Retention or Non-Retention of Urine, Gravel, Thick or Milky Urine, Difficulty of Urinating, Pain in the Back, Bloody Urine, Melancholy and Bill of Rheumatism, Extreme Nervousness, Effects of Inhabit of Dissipation or Early Abuses, Loss of Power and Memory, affecting old or young, male or female.

Use Great Southern Preparations.

BROWN & PERKINS.

Pianos for the People
420 Broome St., N. Y.

We would call the attention of the public and the trade to our elegant New Scale Pianos in the following styles:

STYLE A, 7 octave Front large round corners, plain case, either octagon or carved legs, straight bottom, head moulding on plinth ..... $150

STYLE B, 7 octave, same as style A, with serpentine moulding on plinth, carved legs and lyre ..... $500

STYLE C, 7 octave, Front corners large round, serpentine bottom, mouldings same as on style D, carved lyre and desk, fancy carved legs ..... $550

STYLE D, 7 octave, Four large round corners, finished back, mouldings on sides and plinth, serpentine bottom, carved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs ..... $650

The above styles are all finished in elegant French action, heavy pedal, beveled top, ivory keys and key fronts, and exceed in overstrung bass, nearly all the 7 octave Pianos now manufactured. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed.

The four styles described above, embrace all the essential changes in exterior finish of cases, which are by many manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 pattern.

We invite the attention of the public, of dealers and the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.

By avoiding the great expenses attendant upon the display of professional names, we refer to the parties to whom we have sold our Pianos. Their judgment as to the real merits of our instruments as to the durability, touch, sweetness, and power of tone, standing in time, &c., based on an actual experience, being of far more value than the mere opinion of the Artist, however capable, who merely recites them in a warehouse, instruments in perfect tune and order, which have just received the workmen's last finishing touches.

LETTER FROM W. G. CLARK, Esq., President OF THE SOUTHERN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

ATLANTA, April 19, 1867.

J. S. THEASLER, Esq.

Dear Sir—It affords me much pleasure to communicate to you the following resolution of the Southern Press Association:

Resolved, "That as a testimonial of appreciation for the zealous, faithful and effective service of John S. Theasler, Esq., as Superintendent of this Association for two years past, we hereby tender him the thanks of this Association, and confer upon him the complimentary position of Agent of the Southern Press Association in the City of New York."

The terms of commendation employed in the above resolution do no more than justice to your faithful services during your Superintendency—services which have been highly appreciated by myself. Should occasion require, I shall be glad to avail myself of the aid provided for by the resolution.

POETRY.

A Commentary on the Popular Songs of the Day.

We publish the following, not so much for its real worth, as for the high regard we entertain for the ambitious young gentleman who is the author.

Montgomery Advertiser.

"I've wandered thro' the village Tom,"
Along with "Annie Lee,"
To "listen to the mooring-bird,"
"In the cottage by the sea," Reid's bay were can't be beat While "coming through the rye:"
"Let me kiss him for his mother,"
"Says the spider to the fly."

"The colored girl" and "Poor-Old Ned"
"Now swell our native song"
"I'd offer thee this hand of mine"—
But "take yer time Miss Long,"
"I'm lonely since my mother died"—
"Susanna, don't you cry,"
"We're all a nodding through the world," Then rook hog or die."

"Hark! I hear an angel sing"
Ah! "daddy, he's struck ile"—
"We're coming, Father Abraham,"
Along with "Annie Lyle,"
"The song my mother used to sing,"
"The 'Wearing of the Green'"—
"The girl I left behind me"
To day is "sweet sixteen."

"The nice young man" and "Fairy Belle"
"Are swinging in the lane"—
"The Captain with his whiskers"
"Has marrying on the brain,"
"We will rally round the flag, boys,"
For "Johnny stole the ham"—
"Yankee Doodle," "Hail Columbia,"
And—"I don't care a damn."

If You Want a Kiss, Take It.

There's a jolly Saxon proverb
That is pretty much like this,
That a man is half in heaven
When he has a woman's kiss;
But there's danger in delaying—
And the sweetness may forsake it;
So I tell you, my dear lover,
If you want a kiss, why take it.

Never let another fellow Steal a march on you like this;
Never let a laughing maiden
See you spilling for a kiss;
There's a royal way of kissing,
And jolly ones who make it
Have a motto that is winning—
If you want a kiss, why take it.

Any fool may face a cannon,
Anybody wear a crown,
Put a man next to a woman,
If he'd have her for his own.
Would you have the golden apple;
You must find the tree and shake it
If the thing is worth the having,
And you want a kiss, why take it.

Who would burn upon a desert,
With a forest smiling by?
Who would give his sunny Summer
For a bleak and wintry sky?
Oh! I tell you there is magic,
And you cannot, can't break it;
For the sweetest part of loving
Is to want a kiss, and take it.

Walking a Raft.

There was a fellow once stepped out
Of the door of a tavern on the Mississippi, meaning to walk a mile up the shore to another tavern. Just at the landing there lay a big raft, one of the regular old fashioned whalers—a raft a mile long.

Well, the fellow heard the landlord say the raft was a mile long, and he said to himself, "I will go forth and see this great wonder, and let my eyes behold
the timber which the hands of man hath bewn. So he got on the lower end and began to amble over the raft in pretty fair time. But just as he got started the raft started too, and as he walked up the river it walked down, both going at the same rate. When he got to the end of the sticks he found they were near the shore and in sight of a tavern, so he landed and walked straight to the bar-room he'd come out of.— The general sameness of things took him a little aback, but he looked the landlord steadily in the face and settled
it in his own way:

"Publ'can," said he, "are you gifted with a twin brother, who keeps a similar size tavern, with a duplicate wife, a corresponding wood pile, and a corresponding circus bill, a mile from here?"
The tavern keeper was fond of fun and accordingly said that it was just so.
"And, Publ'can, have you among your dry goods for the entertainment of man and horse any whisky of the same size as that of your brother's?"

And the tavern man said, that from the rising of the sun until the going down of the same he had.
They took the drinks, when the stranger said: "Publ'can, that twin brother of yours is a fine young man—a very fine man, indeed. But do you know, I'm afraid he suffers a good deal with the Chicago diptheria?"
"And what's that?" asked the toddy-sticker.

"It's when the truth settles so firm in a man that none of it comes out. Common doctors, of the catnip sort, call it lying. When I left your brother's con-publ'can, I walked that raft from bill to tail, from his door to yours. Now I know my time, and I'm just as good for myself as for a horse, and better than any man you ever see. I always walk a mile in exactly twenty minutes, on a good road, and I'll be busted with an overloaded Injun gun if I've been more than ten minutes coming here, steppin over the blamed logs at that."

Rabbi Joshua once met a boy who carried something in a covered vessel.
"My boy," said the Rabbi, "what have you in your covered vessel?"
"If it was intended for you to know," replied the boy, "it would not be covered."

Dr. Browne, having long admired a very beautiful young lady, made a point of always giving her for his toast. Being once told it was time to change it, he replied, "I believe it is for though I have been toasting her for twenty years,
I have not been able to make her brown
yet."

A newly married lady who was very fond of her husband, notwithstanding his ugliness of person, once said to a witty friend, "What do you think? My husband has laid out ten guineas for a large baboon on purpose to please me."
"The dear little man," cried the other.
"Well, it is just like him."

"I say Sambo, can you answer dis conunderfurn: 'Suppose I gib you a bottle of whisky shut up wid a cork, how would you get de whisky out widout pullin' de cork or breakin' de bottle?'"
"I gives dat up," "Why-push de cork in."

"Don't y. u know me?" said a soldier to his former commander: "No my friend, I don't." "Why, sir, you once saved my life." "Ah, how is that?"
"Why, my dear sir, I served under you at the battle of—, and, when you ran away in the beginning of the fight, I ran after you—else I might have been killed. God bless you, my preserver, my benefactor!"—Prentice.

BROWN & PERKINS.

420 Broome St., N. Y.

We would call the attention of the public and the trade to our elegant New Scale Pianos
in the following styles:

STYLE A, 7 octave Front large round corners, plain case, either octagon or carved legs, straight bottom, head moulding on plinth.....$450

STYLE B, 7 octave, same as style A,
with serpentine moulding on plinth,
carved legs and lyre.....$500

STYLE C, 7 octave, Front corners large round, serpentine bottom, mouldings same as on style D, curved lyre and desk, fancy carved legs.....$550

STYLE D, 7 octave, Four large round corners, finished back, mouldings on rim and plinth, serpentine bottom, carved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs.....$600

The above styles are all finished in elegant Rosewood cases and have the full iron frame, French action, harp pedal, levelled top, ivory keys and key fronts, and are in overstock basis, nearly all the 7 1/2 Octave Pianos now manufactured. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed.

The four styles described above, embody all the essential changes in exterior finish of cases, which are by many manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 pattern.

We invite the attention of the public, of all classes of the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.

By avoiding the great expenses attendant upon costly factories and expensive warehouses in the city, we are enabled to offer these Pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before duplicating elsewhere.

When references and testimonials are required by those about to purchase, instead of presenting a display of professional names, we refer to the parties to whom we have sold our Pianos. Their judge ment as to the real merits of our instruments as to the durability, touch, sweetness, and power of tone, standing in time, &c., based on an actual experience, being of far more value than the mere good opinion of the Artist, however capable, who merely tries them in a warehouse, instruments in perfect tune and order, which have just received the workmen's last finishing touches.

Our motto is
"QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS."

GROVESTEEN & CO.

Piano Forte Manufacturers,

499, Broadway, New York.

THE attention of the public and the trade
is invited to our New Scale, Seven Octave, Rosewood Piano. The case, which for volume and purity of tone are unrivalled by any hitherto offered in this market. They contain all the modern improvements—French grand action, harp pedal, iron frame, over-strung bass, etc.—and each instrument being made under the personal supervision of Mr. J. H. GROVESTEEN, who has a practical experience of over thirty years in their manufacture, is fully warranted in every particular.

The "Grovesteen Piano-Forte"
Received the highest award of merit at the celebrated World's Fair.

Where were exhibited instruments from the best makers of London, Paris, Germany,
Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and New York;
and also at the American Institute for five successive years, the GOLD and SILVER MEALS
from both of which can be seen at our ware-
rooms.

By the introduction of improvements we make a still more perfect Piano-Forte, and by manufacturing largely, with a strict cash system, are enabled to offer these instruments at a price which will preclude all competition.

Our prices are from $100 to $200 cheaper
than any other first-class Piano-Forte.

Terms—Net cash in current funds.

The Idea of Resistance.

At a Republican meeting in Cincinnati on Saturday, after speeches by Senators Sherman and Wade, of Ohio, Senator Thayer of Nebraska, said:

"I have recently been in Maryland and in the District of Columbia, having left Washington only night before last. While there I took special pains to inform myself in regard to the present purposes of Mr. Johnson, and obtained what I am about to state from reliable authority. I declare on my responsibility as a Senator of the United States that to-day Andrew Johnson meditates and designs forcible resistance to the authority of Congress. I make this statement deliberately having received it from unquestioned and unquestionable authority. I cannot point out the occasion on which he may attempt to use military force. It may be to prevent the assembling of Congress, or when assembled, if the House of Representatives passes articles of impeachment, or it may be for the purpose of forcing the Southern Senators and Representatives to seats in Congress. The question may be asked, 'How can he do such a thing?' You recollect that six months ago Gov. Swann, of Maryland was elected a United States Senator, and that a few weeks afterward he declined, giving grave reasons of State as the cause. It was that Lieutenant-Governor Cox, of that State, could not be trusted for Johnson's purpose. There is to-day a standing army in Maryland, an organized militia force, such as no other State in the Union has offered mainly by returned rebels. When the time comes that he looks for, under some pretense Johnson may declare Maryland and the District of Columbia under martial law, and call upon Gov. Swann to bring forth his militia. There is nothing that will deter Johnson from his purpose, except when the issue comes that courage may fail. I make this statement that the American people may know the danger that threatens their peace and safety. If Pennsylvania and New York give Democratic majorities in the coming election it will embolden him to carry out this purpose; and I hope that you, the people of Ohio will take warning in time, and so cast your votes as to rebuke and prevent the mad designs of this bad man who is now acting President of the United States. But, gentlemen, let me say to you that whenever soldiers he may have under his command to resist the authority of Congress, his doom is sealed. The fate from which he has preserved the traitor, Jefferson Davis, will then be meted out to him; and when that comes 500,000 men from Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio will fly to arms and tramp the soil of Maryland to reach the beleaguered capital and rescue it from the hands of rebels and traitors. In conclusion, let me say to you, who have borne the flag before the enemy, do your duty in the coming elections, vote for those men who by their record, have shown themselves to be your friends, and the friends of the Government. Rally as one man to the standard of justice and liberty, and that will yet float over a united and happy land."

On the above the Tribune says:

Senator Thayer of Nebraska has made a rather sensational speech at Cincinnati about Andrew Johnson and his purpose and declares in the most solemn manner that he has positive knowledge of the President's intention to forcibly resist the authority of Congress. We have no fears. Blind as Mr. Johnson is, he can hardly be ignorant that in such a conflict he would have to stand up not against Congress, nor against even the army, but against the whole loyal country. The people would rise as one man and hurl him to destruction. If he is prepared to withstand the entire North with the aid of the Maryland militia, he is more of a fool even than a knave.

If the Tribune thinks that the Maryland militia is all that Mr. Johnson would have to back him in a contest for the constitution it is "more of a fool" than we have thought it to be. There are about half a million available men at the South who have sworn to support the constitution, and if they be put to the test it will be found they intend to keep their oath.—Savannah Times.

To the Conductors of the Southern Press.

Gentlemen: I have labored all my life for the promotion of the agricultural interest of the South without pay. The result of the war has swept away every thing—land, laborers, &c.; and at the urgent solicitation of friends, I have commenced the publication in the city of Memphis of "The Southern Farmer," at $2 per year a beautiful illustrated monthly of 16 pages devoted to the interests of the farmer, the stock raiser, the mechanic, the inventor, and the manufacturer. At the same time, every housekeeper will find it an invaluable companion.

I have engaged the ablest writers in the South to aid me, and am determined to make the Farmer a paper that shall prove a blessing to my native land in this hour of distress and need, and I hope it will be good to other portions of the United States.

I appeal to you, brethren of the press to assist me, by publishing this notice, once or more, and if you can consistently, give a notice editorially, as I have no other way of reaching the ears of the tens of thousands of Southern farmers who know me and who, I must believe, will patronize my enterprise, were they acquainted with the fact.

Anything I can do to repay your kindness, please to command, and believe me truly yours.

M. M. PHILLIPS.

Do-Nothing Young Ladies.

At a recent social gathering a young lady informed me that she had never sewed! What do you suppose was the nature of my reflections on hearing the declaration? I said to myself, oh, that girl speaks falsely or else she is lazy.

Never sews! Who, then, I queried makes your dresses and cloaks, skirts, &c. &c.? Who repairs the rips in your little gaiters, and darns your stockings? Is it your mother, or your more inquisitive sister? Or do you hire all your sewing done? Should his lady's supposition be correct may you never marry! And the chances are you never will. Not one young man in a hundred can afford to marry a girl who habitually neglects her household duties.

Young man, if it should ever be your fortune to hear a lady declare that she never sews, beware! Show her as you would the chills and fever. Make such a one your wife, and before the honeymoon is over the horrors of buttoned shirts and headless hose will be upon you; your fair lady's sewing would be done by others while she mopes in idleness or riots in fashionable dissipation. Then farewell to your dreams of domestic felicity; they would fade as summer flowers at the touch of autumn frost.

How Much we are Paying to Keep the Radicals in Power.

The people of the United States (so called) paid into the Federal Treasury during the year 1866, $22,577,890. The expense of the last year of President Buchanan's administration (1857) denominated for its extravagance and corruption, amounted to $58,848,472. The former amount is almost ten times as much as the latter.

To keep up the Freedmen's Bureau, a mere electioneering and money making machine for the Radicals, we pay $30,000,000 annually, a sum Democrats used to talk about paying for the island of Cuba, but thought it too extravagant. Although we have peace, and not a hand is raised against the laws or constitution, except by "crazy" men, we paid out last year over $200,000,000 for the army and military—nearly four times what Buchanan's administration paid for military and all other purposes. To pay these sums our taxes are higher than those of any despotic country of Europe. These sums are paid by us out of our incomes, on all we eat, drink, wear or use, in the shape of tariffs and revenue taxes, to support the radical party while they make voters out of the negroes to keep them in power against the wishes of a majority of the white people.

How long shall we endure such things. Besides this, we are deprived of the Union and its blessings, of a southern market and its blessings, of the $100,000,000 of southern exports, which a restoration of the Union, the quiet and industry and confidence of the south, would give us. The Republic is being converted into a despotism, where ten millions of people are ruled with a law, and where all will be, if our masters so will it.

The Epidemic in New Orleans.—A letter to the New York Journal of Commerce, dated New Orleans, September 23, says:

The fever is rapidly on the increase. The city is a vast hospital. It is believed that there are 10,000 cases now under treatment. You hear of it everywhere and in almost every house. It is in all of our crowded orphan asylums. The good sisters are stricken down. Committees are going through the streets begging for them. Language fails to depict the misery and distress existing here. We are truly an afflicted people. We shall require all the aid we can obtain from our Northern friends. Business, of course, seriously affected by the state of things—non-intercourse with the country, no collections, cotton coming in very slow.

"WOOD'S" PRIZE MOWERS AND REAPERS!

Over 60,000 manufactured and now in use in this country and Europe.

These world renowned machines were awarded the first prize, Ten Pounds Sterling, at the Great Quadrennial Trial at Plymouth, England, July, 1863; and at the Great National Field Trial, held at Auburn, N. Y., in July, 1866, the First Premium, Grand Gold Medal.

THE PRIZE MOWER,

While it retains all the advantages which have made it so universal a favorite, is greatly improved by the addition of Steel Lined Guards, New Pitman Connections, Stronger Knives, Spring Seat, Adjustable Folding Shoe.

Making it a perfect machine. The lightest draft, the most durable, and at the same time the most simple, and best cutting machine in the world.

THE SELF-TAKE REAPER!

Justly called the "Victor of every contest" and is constructed on the most scientific principles. The new Mowing Attachment gives general satisfaction and makes one of the most convenient combined Self-Take Reapers known, and we fully warrant it.

THE HAND RAKE REAPER,

Is at the same time the cheapest and the best of its kind ever offered. It cuts a swath five feet wide in Reaping, and four and a half feet in Mowing. As a mower it is equal to the best Folding Bar Machine in use. The ease with which it is managed, and its changing from Mower to Reaper, or vice versa, will at once recommend it.

Manufactured by SHARP'S IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES

THE great popularity of SHARP'S IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES has rendered it necessary to make arrangements, in order to supply the increasing demand, and he is now prepared to fill any order which his patrons, or the public generally may favor him.

W. J. Sharp having had practical experience for nearly twenty years, in the manufacture of Billiard Tables, and having made a number of valuable improvements, he guarantees a Table, which for elasticity of touch, mechanical elegance of appearance, will challenge competition.

His newly invented patent Cushions having been pronounced by the most competent judges to be superior to any now in use, he is enabled to furnish the best Billiard Table manufactured in the United States, and sustain the name which Sharp's Tables so justly have acquired.

Balls, Cues and Trimmings constantly on hand. Old Cushions repaired at short notice. Orders by mail punctually attended to.

Prof. W. J. BORDEN, Principal.

Rev. R. J. C. HAY, Assistant.

The exercises of this Institution will be resumed on Monday the 25th inst. in the large and commodious buildings provided for this purpose.

Such additional teachers will be employed as the number and wants of the pupils may require.

The plan of instruction is thorough and practical.

The regulations, formed for the moral and intellectual improvement of the pupils, are mild, though positive, and are rigidly enforced.

The location is in the midst of a healthy and refined community.

The expenses are moderate—from $15 to $30 per session for tuition, and from $15 to $20 per month for good board in private families.

YOUR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO

TRE MANTAN PAINT OIL,

90 Cents Per Gallon.

Invented by G. DURYEE, M. D. Chemist of New York.

Who has spent several years experimenting for a substitute for Linseed Oil.

It is well known that alumina gives to oil from linseed its lasting virtues; therefore, a chemical combination of alumina with any other oil would make it equally valuable.

Knowing the prejudice against a new oil, especially after the oil of many failures we have awarded severe tests before entering the arena. Neither shall we make vain promises or boast, but leave the merits of our oil with those who use it. We dare say this much, that after two years' trial, in all weather, this oil has been found as indurated as the best boiled linseed oil.

It may be thinned with turpentine or raw linseed oil.

With lead it dries in six hours!

With zinc it gives the luster of Damir varnish.

For a roofing oil it will be found just the thing.

The price is about two-thirds that of linseed oil.

It will not injure the most delicate colors, nor will it crack or peel off.

Furniture Manufacturers will like it for first coats to varnish on.

Boiler makers and Iron Finishers will here find a substitute having the appearance of copal varnish.

Ship Painters are asked to give it a trial.

To MANHATTAN PAINT OIL CO.

I take pleasure in stating that I have used your Paint Oil on wood and iron, with different kinds of paint, and have no hesitation in saying that, in my opinion, it makes a better coating than linseed, and that, for all purposes where exposed to weather, is much preferable.

Yours, J. T. WILBUR.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—Messrs. Grace, Phillips & Co., former proprietors of the Selma Messenger, have sold that establishment to Messrs. M. J. Williams & Robert McKee. The new proprietors have had long experience in the business, are Editors and writers of marked ability, and say in their first number, that neither labor nor expense shall be spared to make the Messenger in all its departments the equal of the best paper in the South. The first number vindic-ates that it will be soundly Conservative in principle uncompromisingly opposed to Radical disunion despotism, and an able advocate of Constitutional government and civil liberty.

WE again call attention to the fact, that E. L. Woodward, is now receiving a large and well selected stock of Fall and Winter Goods. His friends and the public generally may rest assured that they can find in his stock every style and variety to suit their fancy, and purchase upon terms as favorable as they could reasonably desire.

Mrs. M. E. Rowland
gives notice in this paper, that she will open her new stock of Millinery on the 14th inst. Our lady friends can now be accommodated, on fair prices, with every style and variety they may desire, and could not bestow their patronage on one more worthy and deserving.

The attention of all persons interested is directed to the Notice to debtors to the Estate of Sims Kelly, dec'd., by S. C. Kelly, Exr. We assure them that Mr. K. is in thorough earnest, and they may save cost and trouble by prompt payment.

To Administrators and Executors.

Administrators and Executors who desire to publish notices of Grant of Letters, and Sales of Land and other property, in the Republican, can do so as heretofore. Such publications are required to be made, signed, and paid for by themselves, and not by the Judge of Probate—consequently they are not "official patronage," and not affected by Gen. Pope's order 49.

WE have not time or room this week to comment on the cheering and glorious news from Pennsylvania and Ohio, which was received just before our paper went to press. We will attend to it next week when the returns are complete.

An Earnest Appeal.

Gen. Pope's Order 49, taking from our paper and all others of like political character, all the official patronage of civil officers, has thrown us entirely upon our resources from indebtedness for former work, to sustain our paper until
"these calamities be overpast."

We are suffering from this vital stab
at the liberty of the press, and unparalleled proscription for political opin-ion's sake, because we have advocated
the cause of Constitutional liberty, and
the rights of the people against military despotism. Will they suffer our paper
to be crushed by withholding what is already due? We confidently hope and believe they will not. If but a large proportion of those indebted to us for subscription, will come forward within the next month and settle up, which would be but a small matter to them
individually, it would in the aggregate afford us ample relief. Could not, also,
many of our present patrons, by a little effort, get at least one other good paying subscriber. Friends, we think we have a right to ask this at your hands; and
we shall see whether there be none left
to aid those who are made to suffer loss
for their adherence to principle.

It is our purpose, commencing with this number to increase the amount of
reading matter, and leave no effort unused to make our paper still more interesting and valuable to its patrons.

WE take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement of P. L.
Turnley, Druggist, Rome, Ga., successor to the firm of Turnley & Gibbons.
We can say from personal experience,
that we have never dealt with any man in any branch of business, with whom we were better pleased; and can therefore most cheerfully and heartily recommend him to others. Our friends who visit Rome, and need Drugs and medicines, will find it to their interest to call upon him. They will find every variety of the most pure and genuine articles, and the proprietor a most correct, accommodating and gentlemanly man, altogether worthy of their confidence and patronage.

The City Council of Atlanta has
by a vote of 6 to 4 appropriated ten acres, within the corporate limits as a spot for the erection of a monument to Abraham Lincoln.

The City Council would have done better to have appropriated the proceeds of the sale of these ten acres to feed their starving poor, made so by the war.
If they will but leave one of hundreds of burnt and blackened ruins, left after the destruction of the city in Sherman's devastating march, it will be a more appropriate monument to Abraham Lincoln, than any they can possibly erect.

REMEDIES FOR FARMERS.—All kinds of families should bear in mind the great importance
of selecting genuine remedies for the use of their families. Buy with reason, judgment & discretion. Buy those which are prepared by physicians who are experienced in Southern treatment. Buy those which you think are best. The "Great Southern Preparations" are
a class of family medicines prepared specially
for the Southern people by Southern physicians. See advertisement.

MEDICAL AUTHORITIES have announced that
not less than one-fifth of the entire population of the United States are afflicted with Neuralgia in some form. Surely the man who can safely rely on such a vast aggregate of pain is a great public benefactor. Such is
Dr. Turner, of Boston, in Massachusetts.
His "UNIVERSAL NEURALGIA PILL" is promou-ed on all hands, to be an entirely harmless
and perfectly certain remedy for this most tormenting of all known diseases.
See advertisement in another column.

It May be a Blessing.

Perhaps the failure of cotton, says the Albany (Ga.) News, over which there is so much murmuring at present, may be a blessing in the end. If we had been successful in our cotton, there would have been an increased crop next year, much to the damage of the planter.
Last year and the year before whatever money was gathered from cotton went to the great West for corn and bacon.
This year Providence has given us a grain crop and we will make our bread therefore, with a moderate grain crop.
We will have more money for actual commodities than before, with cotton at the present price; we shall have an increase in our wheat, corn, oats and hay crop next year. This will greatly enhance our prosperity; we can eat bread not borrowed or bought on a credit but raised by ourselves. Let cotton much or little be made, we will be able to live, and notwithstanding decrees of Government officials, our prosperity will increase, and whether freedom will work or not, of our bread we shall be sure.
Let us take courage and go to work, and much that now seems lost may be found.

A Photograph of Congress.

The following is the best photograph of the disunion Congress we have seen.
The Boston Post is responsible for it:

The present Congress is a political managers, where all sorts of animals—clean and unclean, mostly one can—are gathered to snarl and growl at each other, and prey upon the nation. Monkeys that prey upon Naby's nuts, climb to an indecent height, while the hyenas employ their flanks in seeking the graves of the dead before decay has commenced its work. Our noble delegates in Washington accuse each other of falsehood, treason, murder, bribery, and, in many cases, prove the truth of their allegations. Ignorance, and the small creatures who have been raised by faction and sycophancy, imagine themselves the political Brobdignags of creation, destined to sway the actions of the world, and get re-elected to a salary of five thousand dollars. Wade—who doesn't know enough to preside intelligently over the deliberations of the Senate—is coarse, vulgar, vindictive, and has no redeeming quality; that is paternal love, exhibited in repeating
"Mother Goose's Melodies."

Schenck expressed a desire for the President's scalp; Logan wants him hung, while Ashley finds a congenial associate in the person of Mr. Conover. Logan, who was prepared to lose his arm before he would raise it against the South, when the rebellion commenced—is for trampling the Constitution, laws, usages, rights and all other marks of independence under foot, if party interest or prejudice suggest such outrage and oppression. And so we go on. Congress usurps all power —assumes the part of Supreme Dictator; the people are made to crawl between its legs and offer thanksgiving that they were not crushed entirely by the giant's feet. How long is this to be endured? Is the unjust claim of "loyalty" to cover such iniquity?
Is the stolen garment of patri tism to hide such treason forever? Or will the people strip hypocacy of its disguise and expose to the whole country its hideous features, doying its machinations.

LATEST NEWS.

FROM LONDON.

London, Oct. 3.—The midnight Italian reports yesterday are starting. A Florence dispatch says the Viterbo outbreak is unquelled.

Orvieto has been captured by the insurgents who are holding all the roads leading to it.

The papal commander demanded assistance from the Italian Government which was refused. The revolt is undoubtedly serious, causing alarming apprehensions of an interruption of the friendly relations between France and Italy.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Official advices received here state that 800 head of cattle, stolen by the Indians from Texas, are held at Fort Ba-comb, subject to the order of the owners on proof of property.

The following preliminary proceedings occurred at Albany:

Resolved, That the organization known as the Tammany Hall organization, is the regular organization of the Democratic party of New York.

Resolved, That the delegates to this Convention, recognize the delegation from the county of New York, representing the section of the Democratic party known as the Mozart Hall, as sound democrats of unexceptional fidelity to the principles and nomination of the democratic party of the State, we tender them honorary seats in the Convention.

On motion the German delegation was included.

New York, Oct. 5.—Garibaldi has issued an address, urging his friends on to Rome.

A Garibaldi meeting has been held at Tara.

It is reported that the Papal troops have been beaten at Vagnara.

New Orleans, Oct. 5.—The interments from fever up to six o'clock this morning 59.

Richmond, Oct. 6.—Mr. Davis trial will certainly take place in November.
The council on both sides are ready.
He is expected to arrive here about the 25th of October.

Savannah, Oct. 6.—The weather is cool and it has been raining in torrents all day.

Reports from Florida and southwest Georgia are very gloomy, heavy rains being reported.

Wilmington, Oct. 6.—Weather warm with continued rains.

The whites here take but little interest in local politics, but are anxiously awaiting news from the Northern election.

Mobile, Oct. 6.—There were three interments from yellow fever for 24 hours ending at six o'clock this evening.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Col. Parker, of Grant's staff, has been sent to Raleigh and Charleston to look after certain treasury interests involving, it is said, over a million dollars. Particulars have not transpired. Parker was detailed at the request of Secretary McCullch. It is suggested from the character of the detail being purely military, that there is some trouble with the freedman's bureau or the district commander.

Mobile, Oct. 7.—Deaths from yellow fever since Sunday up to 4 o'clock this evening 4, caused by the sudden change in the temperature.

New Orleans, Oct. 7.—The evening papers have accounts of a town ulcers gale at Galveston on Thursday, 34 incidents causing the damage to wharves, vessels, goods and buildings at a million dollars. It is the highest overflow since October, 1857.

New York, Oct. 3.—Flour dull and irregular, and favors buyers.
Gold 45.

Havana, via Key West, Oct. 7.— Intelligence is received per French steamer Louisiana, just arrived from St. Thomas, to the effect that a furious engagement took place Fort Beasson on the borders of St. Domingo, but on Hay-ten soil. The Haytian revolutionists, specially opposed to President Solvave,
were possession of the fort, and hoisted
a white flag; but while Solvave's troops proceeded to take possession they were fired on and cut to pieces by the revolutionists. Some members of the first families of Port-au Prince are among the fallen.

Richmond, Oct. 8.—In view of the trial of Mr. Davis double the usual number of petit jurors have been ordered to be summoned for the fall term of the court.

Hon. James Lyons was to-day furnished with a copy of the indictment against the accused.

General Wells, of Alexandria, it is understood, is engaged on the side of the prosecution.

The prosecuting attorney, Chandler, leaves to night for New York to consult with Mr. Evans, who assists him.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The Cincinnati Gazette and the Commercial telegraph here that negro suffrage is defeated in Ohio by 50,000 majority. The Legislature is Democratic but they claim Hayes' election by 3,500.

Private dispatches make Thurman's election highly probable.

No figures from Iowa yet.

Carly's majority 904. Republican loss 2,800. The amendment is defeated by 5,000 in Hamilton county.

"Another and yet Another Straw."

The New York Times plays a new trick—a good one this time—it says of the bithary of the Southern people:

There seems to be far more dread in the North of "negro supremacy" in the Southern States than there is among the whites of the South itself. The Southern people, in fact, appear resigned to whatever may be their fortunes in a way that is truly marvelous. Their submission to the power of the North and the legislation of Congress is absolute, and no developments whatever have any influence in arousing them to anything like active political opposition. Tennessee is the only one of the rebel States where we observe signs of political feeling, and there it is very bitter;
but Tennessee is not on the same footing as the States that lie south of it. It is by no means desirable, to a republican government like ours that this lethargic condition of so large a proportion of the population should become permanent.

Another Conservative Victory.

The late election in Maryland resulted in another complete and glorious triumph. The Radicals were beaten to the tune of twenty thousand. The adoption of the new Constitution assures to the people of that State a Republican form of Government, and does away with the infamous innovations of the small clique of corrupt political desperadoes who obtained control of the government by force of bayonets during the war. Maryland is now free in name and fact. The glorious tide of victory sweeps on unchecked, and everywhere a people warried with abuse and outrage are asserting their rights.

Savannah News

A CASE OF YELLOW FEVER IN BAR-LOW COUNTY.—The Catersville Express,
of yesterday, contains the following:

"There was a case of yellow fever in this county last week. The gentleman, whose name we did not learn, was a brother-in-law of Col. J. L. Rowland, of this county, and had stopped with Col. R. as he was passing through the country from the West, where he had contracted the disease. He died on last Saturday at Col. R.'s residence, and his remains were sent back to Texas, his home, for interment."

Obituary.

Died of Peritonitis, at her residence in Calhoun County, Ala., on the 23rd ult., ANABELLA HOLCOMBE, wife of L.
B. Holcombe, after a brief illness of 44 hours.

She attached herself to the Methodist Episcopal Church at an early age, and was a lively member of the same until her death. She was loved by all who knew her. She leaves behind a sorrowing husband, an affectionate son, and an infant daughter 15 months of age.
Deceased was at the time of her death in her 38th year.

Mr. Editor:

Allow me through your columns to pay a last sad tribute of friendship to the memory of one departed.

Died at his father's residence, WIL-LIAM M. FINDLEY, on the night of the 3rd inst., after a long and painful illness from bronchitis and typhoid fever —aged thirty-two years. Thus has passed away in the early years of manhood, one of our noblest and best young men. At home, in the quiet pursuits of civil life, and on the tented field, the humle writer of this notice knew the deceased intimately. For a number of years he had belonged to the Presbyterian Church. The opening blessings of his christian faith never dropped or faded, but continued to unfold
the growing petals until fully expanded in Heaven. With a disposition kind & amiable, he exhibited a character noble, high-toned and patriotic. In his conduct through life he combined the elements and practice, both of natural and revealed religion: generous and forgiving to his enemies, faithful to and tenacious of his friends, affectionate to his family, charitable and liberal in all his relations, he was a light in the church, an example in society, and an honor to his family. In the capacity of a soldier he nobly served his country with honor to himself and credit to the cause he espoused—ever exemplifying
the true soldier exempt from the petty passions and prejudices that generate discord and debase the nobler nature of man. With christian rectitude he passed through the dissipation and vices incident to camp, to which many of our Southern youths have yielded a willing servility. But alas! when all danger seemed to have passed, and the how of promise was rising again upon his sky, disease came to crush his hopes and disappoint the fondest expectations of those he loved. After three long months of suffering, conscious of his immediate dissolution, he turned to the dear ones who had mournfully watched his suffering, and in expiring breath asked them to meet him in heaven. Parents, family, friends, suffer no more under the stern control of sorrow. Let the dying words of the dear departed be a balusure relief to your stricken hearts. He sings the song of peace "around the throne of God in Heaven" Bright, pure and blessed world! There alone is life without death—beauty without blemish—bloom without decay.

By the Governor of Alabama,

A PROCLAMATION.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
STATE OF ALABAMA.

WHEREAS, information has reached this Department, that an atrocious murder was recently committed in Cleburne county upon the body of Michael Pressali; and Whereas, it is formally charged, that the said murder was perpetrated by JOSEPH MARKS; and it appearing that the said
Marks has fled from justice, and is still running at large;

Now, therefore, with a view of vindicating
the outraged law, and having the murderer brought to condign punishment, I, R. M. Patton, Governor of the State of Alabama, by virtue of the power and authority in me reposed, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of

Three Hundred Dollars

to any person who may arrest the said Joseph Marks, and deliver him into the custody of the Sheriff of Cleburne county.

Given under my hand, and the Great Seal of the State, at the city of Montgomery, this 5th day of June, A. D. 1867, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-first.

R. M. PATTON.
By the Governor,
MICHAEL TAYL,
Secretary of State.

DESCRIPTION.

Joseph Marks is low in stature; stout and heavy built, weighs about one hundred and seventy-five pounds; he is about twenty-five years of age; he has blue eyes, light hair, which was quite long when he fled; his complexion is fair. He is slow spoken. The second toe on the left foot has been cut, so that it hangs down. The first and third toes on the same foot, incline towards each other, and nearly if not quite touch.

GLORIOUS NEWS!

OHIO REDEEMED!

THE DEMOCRATS SWEEP THE STATE!

Thurman Elected Governor!

Legislature Certainly Democratic!

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Democratic gain near 1,000 votes in Lancaster, Penn., Stevens' own county. A special dispatch from Columbus, O. still shows Thurman's election. S. S. Cox telegraphs the World that the democrats have swept the whole State completely.

FROM RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Oct. 10.—Gen Schofield left to-day for Washington, where he and other district commanders, it is stated, have been called by the President.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—The Ledger's table includes 59 counties, showing 2,379 majority. Seven counties still to hear from, which gave last year a republican majority of 548.

FROM CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—The Commercial of this morning says that over fifty counties having been heard from, giving Thurman 6,000 majority. The remaining twenty-five or thirty counties, embracing several in the reserve, will certainly reduce these figures, but whether sufficiently to elect Hayes can only be determined by the official count. The Legislature is hopelessly gone. The Enquirer gives Thurman's majority at 2,169. In the House the radicals stand 50 to 56 democrats. In the Senate 17 radicals to 19 democrats.

NEW CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND.—The Philadelphia Age makes the following intelligent summary of the advantages that will accrue to Maryland by the adoption of the new Constitution.

The new constitution makes practical the following reforms: First, the abolition of the present school system.—Second, the conferring of the veto power on the government. Third, the creation of new checks upon the State and city expenditure. Fourth the denial of the power of the city of Baltimore to lend the credit of the city without consent of the legislature and approval of the people. Fifth, the abolition of the test oaths. By the adoption of this constitution the people of Maryland have organized the State upon the broad principles of the legally expressed will of the majority. The convention which framed it was chosen by the people and now their work has been endorsed at the polls. This sets the seal of public approval upon the instrument and launches the State upon a career of progress and advancement. None of the rights of the minority have been trampled upon. No man has been refused access to the ballot-box on account of his political principle. Maryland has emerged from the cloud suspended over her by a radical tyranny and injustice, adopted a "republican form of government," and now stands the peer of the proudest State in the Union. To the patriotic citizens of the commonwealth of Calvert, who, through years of misrule and oppression, preserved the sacred fire of liberty burning fresh and bright, the result of yesterday is a proud triumph. They have redeemed the State, and thus added a fresh impetus to that reactionary stream, whose current, starting from the bleak hills of Maine, has mingled with golden-hued rills of the queen State of the Pacific.—The Democracy of Pennsylvania greet the defenders of the Constitution and the Union in "Maryland, my Maryland."

A RAILWAY TRAIN TURNED INTO A MAN TRAP.—A branch railway in the Madras Presidency runs through a wild region, the inhabitants of which are unsophisticated savages addicted to thieving. The first day that the line was opened a number of these Arcadians conspired to intercept the train and have a glorious "loot." To accomplish their object they placed some trunks of trees across the rails; but the "engine-driver," keeping a very sharp look-out, as it happened to be his first trip on the line in question, detected the trunks while yet they were at a considerable distance from him. The breaks were then put on, and when the locomotive had approached within a couple of feet of the trunks it was brought to a standstill. Then, instantaneously, like Rhoderic Dhu's clansmen starting from their heather—natives, previously invisible, swarmed up on all sides, and, crowding into the carriages, began to plunder everything that they could lay their hands upon. While they were thus aggressively engaged, the guard gave the signal to the driver, who once reversed his engine and put it to the top of its speed. The regular way judge of the consternation of the robbers when they found themselves whirled backwards at a pace that renders escape from the carriages impossible. The few who attempted it were killed on the spot.—Thus were our Arcadians nicely caught, and as they were transferred from this novel man trap to jail they no doubt convinced that the "fire brand" can move progressively and retrogressively with equal facility.

Central Indiana Times

LET THE NEGRO BEWARE.—The New York Citizen, of the 24th, edited by (Miles O'Reilly) Gen Halpin, who served with distinction in the United States army during the war, thus speaks:

The daily papers are making a great muddle over the opinions of the prominent generals and the people at large on the question of recon traction. They tell us that Grant approves of the course of the President, that Thomas agrees with Sheridan, and that Sherman favors the plan of Congress, or vice versa, according to their political bias. We can tell them all that if the Congressional system is to put the South in possession of the negroes, it does meet the views of the people, the soldiers in our fields, the soldiers in our armies, the merchants at their desks, the farmers at their plows, or any other large body of our citizens. St. Domingo is not what we fought for; we do not want it, and will not have it; and that the negroes, whether white or black, may understand as well first as last. Nations are cruel when driven to despair, and, rather than surrender our white nationality, we will massacre and enslave every colored man in the States. This may be bold language and unconventional, but we ask our readers whether it does not meet the confirmation of their hearts? We have sacrificed too many whites for a principle to stop at taking the lives of a few worthless blacks.

The Charleston Courier mentions the receipt of new rice in that city in three installments.

The same paper says: The little town of Waldo, Alachua county, Florida, has produced a tomato which has covered a bed eight feet square, almost entirely. This was brought about by the plant's becoming top heavy, and, bending to the ground again taking root, and, like the famous banyan tree, went on until it covered the space mentioned. In the latter part of May the plant commenced bearing and has been known to have near a bushel of fruit on it at once. By the last part of August it had produced about six bushels of tomatoes, and was still giving a very good supply. The family who owned it used no other and gave away a good quantity.

POLITICAL CHANGES.—The Albany Argos, of Monday, speculating upon the recent political changes in Maine and California, says:

Three weeks from to-morrow elections will be held in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa. Two of these States, Pennsylvania and Indiana, have been quite closely contested. Last year the Republican majority in Pennsylvania was 17, 173. Should the Democrats gain proportionately in this State as they have just gained in Maine, the majority against the radicals would be 50,000. In Ohio, at the last election, the Republican majority was 49, 086, and a gain equal to that of Maine would give the Democrats about 12, 000 majority. In Indiana, the Republican majority was last year 14,202, and the Democrats there can have about 3,000 majority next month, by doing as well as their brethren in Maine. Applying the same rule to New York State, and the result would be astounding. Fenton's majority last year was 13,780, and at that rate of gain in Maine, the Democrats would have a majority of about a round 100,000!

DECIDED TONE OF PRESIDENTIAL ORATIONS.—A Washington dispatch of the 26th, to the radical St. Louis Democrat says:

The spirit of the President's paper here is unusually warlike to-day. The Intelligence after charging that the Constitution is habitually violated, no by mere oversight, but by deliberate combination, to which Congress has imparted all forms of law, concludes as follows: We have carefully examined the great act of union, and we find it to prescribe in the oath to the President that he will preserve, protect, and defend it; this is a high path, and involves high obligations to preserve, protect, maintain, danger and assault. It does not name the sources of such menace, danger or assault, but leaves it to the President to determine any such public exigency and may demand his intervention, and the shield and force of executive power.

The Evening Union, commenting on the views lately expressed by Senator Howard, and many other Senators who have expressed opinions concerning impeachment, says: "Do these men suppose that the people will permit them to act in a real trial of impeachment? Do they suppose that the revolutionary programme of suspending the President from the exercise of the functions of his office during trial, his sure sentence by such a court as the present senate constitutes, and foisting Wade upon the country as president by such means, is to be quietly proceeded with? If they do they are in a hopeless condition of insanity in the belief that virtue and patriotism as is said in the hearts of true Americans as is in their own bellious, revolutionary and corrupt Congress than in any other body of wicked conspirators, and when such a Congress not only aims a blow at the destruction of our constitutional form of government, but seeks the creation of a complete anarchy and despotism, its power becomes inimical to the rights and liberties of the people and the people will find some means for its destruction. Should the contest of arms come, Congress and its friends would perish like dew upon the lion's mane."

How Executives are Fleeced by the Radical Organs.

Gen. Pope has made a good thing for his Radical organs in compelling public officers to advertise in them, and prescribing no limitation as to price.—They have taken advantage of this omission, and piled on from 50 to 62½ per cent. on the customary rates of the country. An Ordinary writes us that "for citations dispositive he is charged $10, while he has been accustomed to pay heretofore only $5. We suppose there is no remedy for this imposition [it is necessary in order to support Radical newspapers in the South and the public interest is not to be considered. Mason Telegraph.

Gen'l Sherman gives his opinion of negro suffrage, as follows:

I want those who have been in the South to bear testimony to the condition of these freed negroes. My own opinion is that they are not fitted for the exercise of the franchise. (Loud applause.) I want them to get a fair price for their labor but I do not think they are fitted to take part in the legislation of the country. (Renewed cheering)

[From the New York Herald, 21st ult.] The Political Reaction at the North—The Causes which Produced It and its Probable Result.

The Radical press, though evidently much alarmed, attempts to explain away the true cause of the Republican losses in Maine and California; but that is a hopeless task. Every one knows the cause is general; that local issues have had little to do with it, and that it lies in the dissatisfaction of people generally with the negro supremacy policy of the radicals. It is found, in fact, in the common sense and patriotism of the masses of the people revolting against the faithlessness and destructive measures of Congress. But our correspondence shows beyond doubt that an extraordinary reaction is going on in all the great Central States and in the West—general issues as regards negro suffrage and negro supremacy is the same everywhere—this same in Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio and the other States, and the same as entered into the elections in California and Maine. In these latter States, however, the contest was tame compared with what it will be, from a comparison of the next two months. There is another important question looming up prominently in the canvass, particularly in Ohio and other parts of the West, and that is the financial question. This threatens to prove as disastrous to the radicals as their negro worshiping policy. The Chase Radical policy for perpetuating a moneyed oligarchy and despotism is viewed with as much disfavor in the West, among all parties, as negro supremacy. The mass of the Republicans, as well as the Democrats, are bitterly opposed to the National Bank monopoly, to contraction of the currency, to the bondholders being exempt from taxation, and to all the other measures of Chase, Jay Cooke, McCulloch and their friends in favor of a moneyed oligarchy. The industrial classes—the farmers, laborers, mechanics and tradesmen—see ruin staring them in the face if this wretched financial system be perpetuated. They see that an enormous debt will be fastened upon them, their labor taxed beyond endurance, their means of paying their taxes and debts greatly reduced, and the prospects of universal bankruptcy; and all to favor the National bank monopoly, the bondholders and capitalists. Looking at the rapid growth of public opinion in opposition to the Radical financial policy, there is reason to believe the party will be defeated in the West on this issue alone. The whole tenor of our correspondence indicates such a result.

But the main question occupying the public mind at present is that of negro suffrage and a negro balance of power in the republic. The prospect of the whole South being governed by the ignorant and uncivilized negroes, of these benighted blacks holding the balance of political power in the republic, of taking their seats in Congress, and of dominating over the people of our own superior race, with the degradation and ruin that must follow—these are the thoughts so repulsive to the mass of the Northern people. It is this fearful prospect, brought before us by Radical rule, that has created a revulsion in the public mind, and that will surely overwhelm the party that has brought the country to such a deplorable condition. The great reactionary movement of the day is no one in favor of the Democratic party, and least of all in favor of the copperhead faction. The questions at issue are now; old dogmas and platforms have become obsolete. The masses of the people which have voted on both sides are now coming together as the great constitutional party. They are disgusted with the disorganizing and revolutionary conduct of the radicals, and with the infamous attempt to Africanize the Republic by creating a negro balance of power. That is the real state of things; and if we mistake not the signs of the times the radicals will be defeated in the great Central States, as well as in the West, at the coming elections. The moderate and conservative Republicans should throw off their destructive leaders, and with others to form the great constitutional party of the future.

Hemlock Leather & Kerosene Oil

Any person wishing to purchase a good article of Hemlock Leather and Kerosene Oil, can do so by applying to J. M. Carroll, west side of the public square.

Several varieties of Dromgool & Co's. valuable Medicines can now be obtained at the Jacksonville Drug Store.

New Sewing Machine.—We examined the other day a new Sewing Machine, manufactured by Bliss & McCallum, of Louisville, Ky. This is called the "Common Sense Family Sewing Machine," and comes nearer being what the name indicates, than any of the machines we have ever examined, by its simplicity of construction, its durability, and freedom from complication and liability to get out of order, and if it should, can easily understood in all its parts, and repaired or put in order by any lady using it. It works smoothly, neatly and rapidly, and is warranted by the manufacturers to perform good work for three years. It is cheap and we have little doubt but it will be found more useful and valuable than many descriptions of machines which cost more than three times its price.

Mr. J. M. Forbes, of Oxford, is agent for the sale of these machines in this State, and will take the names of persons who may desire them, and deliver the machines at any specified time. Mr. F. will pass through the country; and exhibit a model machine, and in his absence, a note addressed to him at Oxford will be attended to.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON will send (free of charge) to all who desire it, the prescription with the directions for making and using the simple remedy by which he was cured of a lung affection and that dread disease Consumption. His only object is to benefit the afflicted and he hopes every sufferer will try this prescription, as it will cost him nothing, and may prove a blessing. Please address—

CHILLS AND FEVER.

Can the Chills be cured in every instance without affecting the head? Is there no medicine that will satisfy our people, that will permanently eradicate all forms of Chills and Fever? Yes, it can be done. What is its name and where can it be had?

BROMGOOLE & CO'S

KING OF CHILLS

Is to-day, the most worthy and substantial Chill medicine now before the Southern people. It never fails to give the most perfect satisfaction in every respect. Every plantation should buy one dozen bottles at a time.

BILLIOUS FEVER

Which is so common on all our rivers, lakes, bayous, swamps, etc. can be easily cured by using our "King of Chills," which immediately cures the Liver, cleanses the Stomach, opens the bowels, and never fails to cure the worst forms of Chills and Fever. Chills are so easily cured by its use, that it is folly to suffer any longer.

FARMERS & PLANTERS

Everywhere could save much time and money among their hands by keeping a constant supply of King of Chills on hand, as it makes quick and permanent cures without affecting the head, and is a powerful tonic to prevent a return. We appeal to all who suffer with chills.

English Female Bitters,

A beautiful medicinal compound, prepared by a class of regular and experienced physicians who have been practicing medicine in the South for twenty years. This Female Regulator is a powerful Uterine Tonic, arousing the womb to a healthy action, thereby curing painful, suppressed or irregular menstruation, falling of the womb, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Uterine and Irritability of the womb, Scouring, and Giddiness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Sick Headache, Catarrh disease, Derangement of the Kidneys and Bladder, and all these peculiar complaints affecting

WIFE, MOTHER AND SISTER.

Read a few extracts from letters, "English Female Bitters cured me of falling of the womb." "My wife cured me of Leucorrhoea and she sold the remainder." "Send one bottle English Female Bitters for Palpitation and Sick Headache." "Three bottles of English Female Bitters cured my wife of Pains in Menstruation." "O, I feel so much better after using English Female Bitters, it strengthens me." "Four bottles of English Female Bitters cured my wife of Falling of the Womb."

BLOOD and BONES

Are composed of certain materials which become greatly changed from the effects of many constitutional diseases, such as Skin Diseases, Eruption on the face, broken down Constitutions, Shattered Nerves, Effects of Mercury, Scrophulous, Glanular Tumors and Swellings, and Ulcers, and Sore of long standing and all that class of diseases where the blood has become impure, and this condition of your blood must be changed, altered, before you can expect to get well, and for this purpose nothing is better than

CONSTITUTIONAL MONARCH

Which immediately purifies the blood and restores health. This Blood Purifier is composed of Silliman's Yellow Dock, Sarsaparilla, Burdock and Iodide Potash, and all persons know them to be good, all physicians say so, as well as those who speak from experience.

KIDNEY and BLADDER

Affections which are so common among all classes in the Southern climate, are immediately cured by the use of Dromgool & Co's Fluid Extract.

Bearberry, Cubeb and Buchu

It will cure Retention or Non Retention of Urine, Gravel, Thick or Milky Urine, Difficulty of Urinating, Pain in the Back, Bloody Urine, Melancholy and Evil Fancies, Extreme Nervousness, Effects of Habits of Dissipation or Early Abuses, Loss of Power and Memory, affecting old or young, male or female.

POETRY.

THE ARTIST'S PET.

Two little feet, all brown and bare,
Within my chamber crept—
Two merry, grayish eyes peeped in
To see if still I slept.

A bunch of cherries, rich and ripe,
Upon my easel thrown—
Two little hands, all berry-stained,
Lay captured in my own.

An artist I, and from the North,
And she a southern child;
A little girl of ten or so,
With tender ways, and wild.

A father's house, a farmer's plain,
But kind, was then my home,
And often with the father's child
The woodland I would roam.

She was my guide to many a spot,
Where summer's green-leaved book,
Lay open on the lap of June,
Lay meadow, field, and brook.

And oft we climbed the fence gray,
To seek our favored seat—
A mossy bank, where flowers drew,
Bright pictures at our feet.

And she would hold my pencil then,
And while my picture grew,
Her large grey eyes would larger grow
With pleasure, and I knew.

That in me little Nettie's heart,
Sweet songs unworried lay—
Sweetest songs whose tender notes & high
Would thrill my soul some day.

I sketched for her the old farm house
The willow leaved night,
As if to weep her slow decay—
The cherry growing by.

And pictures of the hill-side spring
I drew for her, and made
In one a fairy naiad queen—
"Tis I 'tis I!" she said.

And laughed, & threw her arms around
My neck in childish glee,
And kissed the picture o'er and o'er.
Then gave her lips to me.

We parted—and I see her yet
Out by the willow tree,
With grey eyes looking down the road,
All tearful after me.

Ten years passed by, my work was done
My name writ high in art,
And then I sought to write it deep
On Nettie's poet heart!

Within the same old chamber now,
Two feet pause at the door,
Then shyly drop their easy steps
Like down across the floor.

A blush, a smile, a tender sigh—
The child to woman grown—
A bunch of blue forget me-nots
Across my easel thrown.

Two greyish eyes, more dreamy now
And darker than of old,
Look up to mine; two wee white hands
Most willingly I hold.

Two dewy lips, whose rosy light
With kisses oft I hide;
A pure heart throbbing near my own,
For Nettie is my bride!

Habolochitta, Hancock Co., Miss.

Why is a conceited fool like a rifle?
Because he has a vacant space under the cap.

Why is a fascinating woman like a successful gambler? Because she has such winning ways.

An Irishman who had blistered his fingers by endeavoring to draw on a pair
of boots, exclaimed, "I shall never get them on at all, until I wear them a day or two."

"Miss Brown," said a young fellow to a brisk bunnet, "I have learned to tell fortunes. Just let me have your hand, if you please." "La, Mr. White, how sudden you are! Well, go and ask pa."

A farmer who had employed a green
Emerald, ordered him to give the mule some corn in the ear. On his coming in the farmer asked:
"Well, Pat, did you give the mule
the corn?"
"To be sure I did."
"How did you give it?"
"And shure, as you told me, 'in the ear.'"
"But how much did you give?"
"Well, ye see, the cruther wouldn't hold still, and kept switching his ears
about so, I couldn't git but about a fist ful in both ears!"

Singular Phenomenon.

Eds. Macon Telegraph.—I witnessed
Thursday night one of the strangest and
most impressive phenomena that ever occurred in the heavens. Between 11
and 12 o'clock, the moon, planets, and
stars shining as clear and brilliant as
any one ever saw them, and not a vapor
anywhere to be seen, a black and ominous
looking cloud, with the suddenness
of thought, leaped into the eastern horizon.
It ascended to the zenith immediately over the city with the rapidity
of a flying cannon ball, being then at an altitude of one and a half miles, two miles, long from north to south and one

mile wide from east to west, the edges
around it beautifully illuminated with the light of the moon. It was accompanied by a roaring sound like that of a distant cannon; but on the earth there was only the faintest rustle in the foliage.
For a moment the atmosphere was chillingly cold. From the time it first appeared on the eastern horizon was not exceeding three minutes.

The centre was very dense and black,
and the whole cloud rolling and boiling
like the waters of the sea when lashed
by a furious storm. I presume that this may be called for the want of a better
name, a tornado in the heavens.

As an Englishman and Irishman
were passing by a galloping, the former asked: "Pat, if that galloping had its due,
pray where would you be? 'Och! faith
and I'd be riding to town all alone, was the quick reply.

An Irishman, writing from Philadelphia the other day to his friend in the old country, concludes a letter thus:
"If ever it's me fortune to live till I dy—and God noss whether it is so—I'll visit old Ireland afore I lave Philadelphia."

A good story is told of camp
meeting John Allen: At a social gathering of ministers of different denominations, a Baptist brother made a display of objections to the Methodist policy, because, as he said, "there was too much machinery to it." "Yes, responded brother Allen, "there is a deal of machinery, but it don't take so much
water to run it as the Baptist does."

The tin discoveries in Missouri
have created considerable of a panic among the English tin interests. They say if half the accounts be true, there must be an end to tin mining in England, where the ore is raised from a depth of two to three thousand feet.

Gen. Beauregard says that unless the conservative element of the nation
soon awakens to the dangers which threaten the liberties of the country, he confidently believes that its form of government will, ere long, be changed to a military despotism, after a period of anarchy more or less prolonged.

Gerrit Smith says, in reference to the North and South: "The shame of defeat is nothing when compared with the shame of abusing the power of success."

The President stated to a friend recently that he would resist any effort
of Congress to remove him during his trial
on articles of impeachment.

A Presentiment.

On Saturday, a young man named
James Noble, visited this city to meet
some friends whom he had not seen for many years. On Monday night he awoke
from a frightful dream, in which his father was killed by an assassin. So vivid was the dream that it was some time before he could compose himself to sleep again. He did so, however, and told the family next morning with whom he was stopping of his dream. Of course they said it was very queer, but nothing further was thought about the matter. On the 24th, however, a gentleman brought
the intelligence that the father of young Noble had, in reality, been robbed and murdered on last Monday night.

Mainly Position of the New York Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The following are among the Albany resolutions:
Resolved, That regarding the national debt as a sacred obligation, we demand economy of the administration, honesty in the collection and application
of revenues, simplification and equality
in taxation and currency for the benefit of the people, instead of corporations, to the end that the public faith may be preserved and the burdens of taxation
lessened.

Resolved, That we denounce the effort
of the Radical party to retain the power
it has usurped by establishing negro supremacy in the South by military force, coupled with the disfranchisement
of the mass of the white population, as an attempt to undermine and destroy
the Republic; and we stigmatize the refusal of that party in this State to submit the question of negro suffrage to the people as a cowardly evasion of a paramount issue in the pending struggle.

THE REVIVAL MEETING at the Methodist Church is not yet closed. About a hundred have professed conversion
since the meeting commenced—over
five weeks ago—and seventy-one or seventy-two have joined that Church.
May the good work still progress until
all shall feel its saving influence.

VERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green
Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of self-
abuse may be effectually removed without medicines, and without dangerous surgical operations, blisters, instruments, &c.; or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer,
no matter what his condition may be, may
cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
This Lecture will prove a boon to
thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any

CHEAP PRINTING PAPER.

To Editors and Publishers.

LETTER FROM W. G. CLARK, Esq., President
OF THE SOUTHERN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

ATLANTA, April 19, 1867.

J. S. THRASHER Esq.,

Dear Sir—It affords me much pleasure to communicate to you the following resolution
of the Southern Press Association:

Resolved, "That as a testimonial of our appreciation for the zealous, faithful and effective service of John S. Thrasher, Esq., as Superintendent of this Association in years
past, we hereby tender him the thanks of this Association, and ever upon him the complimentary position of Agent of the Southern Press Association in the City of New York."
The terms of commendation employed in the above resolution do no more than justice
to your important services during your superintendency—services which none can more highly appreciate than myself. Should occasion require, I shall be glad to avail myself
of the aid provided for by the resolution.

Very Respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
W. G. CLARK, President.

NOTICE.

I would respectfully request every daily,
tri-weekly, semi-weekly, weekly and monthly
journal, sent weekly, to the City of New York, and the City of New York, to publish this advertisement twice, and send to New York, each time, a copy of the paper containing it, post paid, with bill for the same.

It is desirable in my communications to secure cheaper printing paper for our Southern journals, that I shall have the fullest information regarding the sizes of paper used by the several publications, and I can procure it
in no other way than by requesting particular attention to the need of sending copy of the publication with the bill.

I desire it twice to be published against mail fines, and that they be postpaid to secure prompt office delivery.

GROVESTEN & CO. Piano Forte Manufacturers,

499, Broadway, New York.

THE attention of the public and the trade
is invited to our New Scale, Seven Octave, Rosewood Piano-Fortes,
which for volume and purity of tone are un-rivaled by any hitherto offered in this market. They contain all the modern improvements—French grand action, harp pedal, iron
frame, over-strung bass, etc.—and each instrument being made under the personal supervision of Mr. J. H. Grovesten, who has a practical experience of over thirty years in
their manufacture, is fully warranted in every particular.

The Grovesten Piano-Forte

Received the highest award of merit at the celebrated World's Fair.

Where were exhibited instruments from the
best makers of London, Paris, Germany,
Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and New York;
and also at the American Institute for five successive years, the Gold and Silver Medals
from both of which can be seen at our ware-
rooms.

By the introduction of improvements we
make a still more perfect Piano-Forte, and by
manufacturing largely, with a strict cash system, are enabled to offer these instruments at a price which will preclude all competition.

Our prices are from $100 to $200 cheaper than any other first-class Piano-Fortes.

VOL. 31.

WHOLE NO. 1594.

Jacksonville Republican.

EDITED, PRINTED & PUBLISHED, EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, BY J. E. GRANT.

What the whole Northern Press says of the Elections.

The World's special says:

The friends of the Administration are confident of important changes in the Cabinet; to be followed by a wholesale decapitation of under officials. The President will take a stand which will astonish the country. Thomas Ewing and E. Corning are mentioned for Secretary of the Treasury. Secretary Seward will probably send his resignation from Auburn, and Hon. Reverdy Johnson is spoken of as his successor.

The same paper editorially says:

The elections are an indignant and unanimous veto upon the policy of the party in power.

The Herald's special says:

There are all manner of rumors regarding Cabinet changes. It is probable that some changes will be made before the session of Congress, but none have yet been determined upon.

The same paper editorially says:

The recent elections do not denote democratic victories, but that the republican element of the country has stepped aside to rebuke its leaders.

The N. Y. Times' special has good authority for the statement that the President has announced that, in view of the recent elections, he would make some changes in the Cabinet.

The same paper editorially says:

The elections indicate no increased confidence in the democratic party, but simply a reaction against the extreme acts and measures of the republican party, and convey admonition which ought to be salutary to the leaders.

The Tribune's special says:

The President will be serenaded Thursday night, when he will define his future policy. It is generally believed changes will be made in the Cabinet. It is stated that ex-Governor Seymour will succeed Seward; E. P. Blair, McClelland and Ewing are named for the war office. Gen. Howard is to be sent to the plains and Judge Holt got rid of.

The proposed serenade was peremptorily forbidden by the President.

Editorially, the same paper says:

The vital principles of genuine democracy will march on through a series of defeats to inevitable and conclusive triumph, through whatever trials of inconsistency, the great party will move right on to arduous but inevitable achievement of equal rights for all.

The Journal of Commerce, editorially says:

The republican leaders vainly thought they could lead the whole nation to the consummation of the wildest and most unconstitutional projects, but the more thoughtful of the mass refused to follow. If the elections do nothing more than divide the parties more equally, and thus check party arrogance, the effort will not have been lost.

The Sun says:

The masses of the Northern people desire a reconstruction policy giving security against further rebellion, and are opposed to the spiteful schemes of the republican extremists. Through the elections they have spoken, and if the republican party would save itself further reverse, it must cast overboard the vagaries of certain leaders.

The Danville (Ky.) Advocate says: Owing to the continued dry weather, our farmers in this section of the State have not been able to prepare their ground for sowing wheat etc., and it is now getting too late to commence, even if we should have a change in the weather. But few hogs will be fattened for the market here, compared with last year. There is a marked decline in beef cattle, and a very general disposition on the part of holders to get rid of the stock now on hand.

The Great Drought.

The Sandusky Register has the following in regard to the great drought that is desolating Northern Ohio:

Never, in the memory of the living, has Northern Ohio suffered such a drought as is now prevailing. For nearly three months hardly anything to be called a shower has fallen in this part of the Reserve. Everything in the way of foliage is parched, blackened, and covered with dust. Cisterns long since went dry, and now nine-tenths of the wells are nearly exhausted. In some cases the water is driven six miles to water, and in some miles back from the shore people depend upon the lake for water. Last week water was hauled from the lake at Sandusky to Bellevue—twenty miles by railroad, inland. In some localities water hauled a great distance is sold by the pailful, for cooking and washing purposes. The dust fills the air and creeps everywhere. It steals through the window blinds, and sifts through the roof, covering furniture with a coating of grit, and worrying the life out of housekeepers, who stand, during brush in hand, looking in despair on the strangling flood of dust. The lake alone seems to be unaffected by the prolonged dryness; but if rain be much longer delayed we shall expect to hear of vessels aground in the midst of Lake Erie, and yawl boats stranded in the mud in our deepest harbors! The great drought reaches from Rochester, N. Y. in a belt of about two hundred miles in width.

The way the Whites and Blacks were Swindled.

Barbour County.—A great many negroes had the idea that unless they went to Clayton and voted they would be fined fifty dollars and otherwise punished, and we heard of one instance of a negro man getting up out of a sick bed and starting for Clayton, although entirely unable to travel, saying to those who remonstrated with him that he had better do that than be fined fifty dollars and otherwise punished. So fully impressed were they with this idea that no amount of assurance from their white employees could convince them of the contrary. Many of them went to the polls armed, and a four mule wagon loaded with muskets was carried to the public square at Clayton, we suppose for the benefit of those who did not have arms in case of an emergency.

Enfield News.

Lee County.—It was curious, and to the philosophic mind none less instructive to observe the League subs. how faithfully they performed their parts in drilling and martialing this motley mass. The column pressed up and closely guarded; there was agents whose business it was to go up and down the line to see if the negroes all had Radical tickets. Some tickets that negroes had in hand were taken away and others placed in them. Men were heard to tell the negroes not to open nor allow others to open the tickets given them, but to vote it just so. Others were heard to use threats to the negroes of what would be done with them if they did not vote as they were instructed.

Instances are known of negroes voting twice, once for themselves and once for Jim, who could not come. Many, many of the creases went from the poll, declaring that they did not know how they voted, nor who they voted for. Once in the "bull pen" their agency and responsibility passed into other hands.—Opelika Recorder.

Russell County.—Our report on yesterday of the votes given in was essentially correct. The total number polled was 1806, only 2 of which were given by whites. The number registered in the county, before the registers made their late revision, was 3482. We do not know how this number was affected by the revision.

All the ballots, it is said, were closely scrutinized by white Radicals, and in many instances the tickets which the freedmen were carrying to the ballot box were taken from them and others substituted. The complete control of most of the negroes by a few Radicals who took them in charge was thoroughly disgusting. They never were so entirely subject to the will and control of their old masters.—Col. Sun.

GOOD BYE RADICALISM!

The Matt's dispatches, received late last night, announce the gratifying intelligence that the Democrats have achieved a glorious victory in Ohio and Pennsylvania. This news sounds the death knell of Radicalism and the Congressional usurpation policy.

Radical papers of Cincinnati admit that negro suffrage has been defeated in Ohio by 50,000 majority, and concede that the Democrats have carried the Legislature as well as elected their Governor. Colonel Swayze should immediately return to Ohio and reconstruct his native State!

The Democrats have also carried Pennsylvania by 9,000 majority. The Republican majority in this State last year was 17,000. This is a glorious victory for the Democrats; and the Conservatives of the South can truly send greetings to their friends in the North and West.—Montgomery Mail

The Atlanta Intelligencer, of yesterday, referring to Mrs. Lincoln's despondent condition, suggests as very appropriate a donation of "ten more acres of land" by the dirt eating majority of the City Council of that city.

"WOOD'S"

PRIZE MOWERS AND REAPERS!

Over 60,000 manufactured and now in use in this country and Europe.

These world renowned machines were awarded the first prize, Ten Pounds Sterling, at the Great Quadrennial Trial at Plymouth, England, July, 1865, and at the Great National Field Trial, held at Auburn, N. Y., in July, 1866, the first Premium, GRAND GOLD MEDAL.

THE PRIZE MOWER,

While it retains all the advantages which have made it so universal a favorite, is greatly improved by the addition of

Steel Lined Guards,

New Pitman Connections,

Stronger Knives,

Spring Seat,

Adjustable Flding Shoe,

Making it a perfect machine. The highest draft, the most durable, and at the same time the most simple, and best cutting machine in the world.

THE SELF-RAKE REAPER!

It is justly called the "Victor of every contest" and is constructed on the most scientific principles. The new Mowing Attachment gives general satisfaction and makes one of the most convenient combined Self-Rake Reapers known, and we fully warrant it.

THE HAND RAKE REAPER,

Is at the same time the cheapest and the best of its kind ever offered.

It cuts a swath five feet wide in Reaping, and four and a half feet in Mowing. As a Mower it is equal to the best Folding Bar Machine in use. The ease with which it is managed, and its changing from Mower to Reaper, or vice-versa, will at once recommend it.

WILLIAM J. SHARP'S

Improved Billiard Tables,

With his PATENT CUSHIONS,

Well known to be superior to any now in use.

THE great popularity of SHARP'S IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES has rendered it necessary to make arrangements, in order to supply the increasing demand, and he is now prepared to fill any order, with which his patron, or the public generally may favor him.

W. J. Sharp having had practical experience for nearly twenty years, in the manufacture of Billiard Tables, and having made a number of valuable improvements, he guarantees a Table, which for elasticity of touch, mechanical elegance of appearance, will challenge competition.

His newly invented patent Cushions having been pronounced by the most competent judges to be superior to any now in use, he is enabled to furnish the best Billiard Table manufactured in the United States, and sustain the name which Sharp's Tables so justly have acquired.

Bill. Cues and Trimmings constantly on hand. Oil Cushions repaired at short notice. Orders by mail punctually attended to. Send for descriptive circular and price list.

Prof. W. J. BORDEN, Principal,

Rev. R. J. C. HAY, Assistant.

The exercises of this Institution will be resumed on Monday the 20th inst. in the large and commodious buildings provided for this purpose.

Such additional teachers will be employed as the number and wants of the pupils may require.

The plan of instruction is thorough and practical. The regulations, formed for the moral and intellectual improvement of the pupils, are mild, though positive, and are rigidly enforced.

The location is in the midst of a healthy and refined community.

The expenses are moderate—from $15 to $30 per session for tuition, and from $15 to $20 per month for food board in private families.

Pupils received at any time and charged from the date of admission to the close of the session.

All interested are invited to give this Institution a rigid scrutiny, and if found worthy, to give it also their patronage and support. For further particulars address the principal, or

90 Cents Per Gallon.

Invented by G. DURVEE, M. D. Chemist of New York.

Who has spent several years experimenting for a substitute for Linseed Oil.

It is well known that aloumen gives to oil from Russia all its lasting virtues; therefore, a chemical combination of aloumen with any other oil would make it equally valuable.

Knowing the prejudice against a new oil, especially after the odium of many failures, we have awaited severe tests before entering the arena. Neither shall we make vain promises or boast, but leave the merits of our oil with those who use it. We dare say this much, that, after two years' trial, in all weather, this oil has been found as indestructible as the best boiled linseed oil.

It may be thinned with turpentine or raw linseed oil.

With lead it dries in six hours!

With zinc it gives the lustre of Dammar varnish.

For a roofing oil it will be found just the thing.

The price is about two-thirds that of linseed oil.

It will not injure the most delicate colors, nor will it crack or peel off.

Furniture Manufacturers will like it for first coats to varnish on.

Boiler makers and Iron Finishers will here find a substitute having the appearance of copper varnish.

Ship Painters are asked to give it a trial.

Among the many parties who have tried it we take pleasure in referring to

To MANHATTAN PAINT OIL CO.

I take pleasure in stating that I have used your Paint Oil on wood and iron, with different kinds of paint, and have no hesitation in saying that, in my opinion, it makes a better coating than linseed, and that, for all purposes where exposed to weather, is much preferable.

THE ARTIST'S PET.

Two little feet, all brown and bare,
Within my chamber crept—
Two merry, grayish eyes peeped in
To see if still I slept.

A bunch of cherries, rich and ripe,
Upon my easel thrown—
Two little hands, all berry-stained,
Lay captured in my own.

An artist I, and from the North,
And she a southern child;
A little girl of ten or so,
With tender ways and wild.

A father's house, a farmer's plain,
But kind, was then my home,
And often with the father's child
The woodland I would roam.

She was my guide to many a spot,
Where summer's green-leaved book,
Lay open on the lap of June,
By meadow, field, and brook.

And oft we climbed the fence gray,
To seek our favored seat—
A mossy bank, where flowers drew,
Bright pictures at our feet.

And she would hold my pencil then,
And while my picture grew,
Her large grey eyes would larger grow
With pleasure, and I knew.

That in me little Nettie's heart,
Sweet songs unworded lay—
Sweet songs whose tender notes & high
Would thrill my soul some day.

I sketched for her the old farm house
The willow leaping high,
As if to weep its slow decay—
The cherry growing by.

And pictures of the hill-side spring
I drew for her, and made
In one a fairy maid queen—
"Tis I 'tis I!" she said.

And laughed, & threw her arms around
My neck in childish glee,
And kissed the picture o'er and o'er.
Then gave her lips to me.

We parted—and I see her yet
Out by the willow tree,
With grey eyes looking down the road,
All tearful after me.

Ten years passed by, my work was done
My name went high in art,
And then I sought to write it deep
On Nettie's poet heart!

Within the same old chamber now,
Two feet pause at the door,
Then shyly drop their easy steps
Like down across the floor.

A blush, a smile, a tender sigh—
The child to woman grown—
A bunch of blue forget-me-nots
Across my easel thrown.

Two greyish eyes, more dreamy now
And darker than of old,
Look up to mine; two white hands
Most willingly I hold.

Two dewy lips, whose rosy light
With kisses oft I hide;
A pure heart throbbing near my own,
For Nettie is my bride!

Habochchitta, Hancock Co., Miss.
Why is a conceited fool like a rifle?
Because he has a vacant space under the cap.

Why is a fascinating woman like a successful gaming? Because she has such winning ways.

An Irishman who had blistered his
fingers by endeavoring to draw on a pair
of boots, exclaimed, "I shall never get them on at all, until I wear them a day
or two."

"Miss Brown," said a young fellow to a brisk buvette, "I have learned to tell fortunes. Just let me have your hand,
if you please." "La, Mr. White, how
sudden you are! Well, go and ask pa."

A farmer who had employed a green
Emerald, ordered him to give the mule some corn in the ear. On his
coming in the farmer asked:
"Well, Pat, did you give the mule
the corn?"
"To be sure I did."
"How did you give it?"
"And shure, as you told me, 'in the
ear.'"
"But how much did you give?"
"Well, ye see, the cratner wouldn't hold still, and kept switching his ears
about in so, I couldn't git but about a fist full in both ears!"

Singular Phenomenon.

Eds. Macon Telegraph.—I witnessed
Thursday night one of the strangest and
most impressive phenomena that ever
occurred in the heavens. Between 11
and 12 o'clock, the moon, planets, and
stars shining as clear and brilliant as
any one ever saw them, and not a vapor
anywhere to be seen, a black and ominous
looking cloud, with the suddenness
of thought, leaped into the eastern horizon. It ascended to the zenith immediately over the city with the rapidity
of a flying cannon ball, being then at an

miles long from north to south and one
mile wide from east to west, the edges
around it beautifully illuminated with
the light of the moon. It was accompanied by a roaring sound like that of a distant
cannon; but on the earth there was
only the faintest rustle in the foliage.
For a moment the atmosphere was chill-
ingly cold. From the time it first appeared on the eastern horizon was not
exceeding three minutes.
The centre was very dense and black,
and the whole cloud rolling and boiling
like the waters of the sea when lashed
by a furious storm. I presume that this may be called, for the want of a better
name, a tornado in the heavens.

As an Englishman and Irishman
were passing by a galloway, the former asked: "Pat, if that galloway had its due,
pray where would you be?" "Och! faith
I'd be riding to town all alone, was
the quick reply."

An Irishman, writing from Philadelphia the other day to his friend in the old country, concludes a letter thus:
"If ever it's me fortune to live till I dy—and God nose whether it is—I'll visit ould Ireland afore I lave Philadel-delly."

A good story is told of camp
meeting John Allen: At a social gathering of ministers of different denomi-
nations, a Baptist brother made a display of objections to the Methodist policy,
because, as he said, "there was too much machinery to it." "Yes, responded brother Allen, 'there is a deal of
machinery, but it don't take so much
water to run it as the Baptist does'"

The tin discoveries in Missouri
have created considerable of a panic among the English tin interests. They say if half the accounts be true, there must be an end to tin mining in England, where the ore is raised from a depth of two to three thousand feet.

Gen. Beauregard says that unless
the conservative element of the nation
soon awakens to the dangers which
threaten the liberties of the country, he
confidently believes that its form of government will, ere long, be changed to a
military despotism, after a period of anarchy more or less prolonged.

Gerrit Smith says, in reference to
the North and South: "The shame of
defeat is nothing when compared with
the shame of abusing the power of success."

The President stated to a friend recently that he would resist any effort
of Congress to remove him during his trial
on articles of impeachment.

A Presentiment.

On Saturday, a young man named
James Noble, visited this city to meet
some friends whom he had not seen for many years. On Monday night he awoke
from a frightful dream, in which his father was killed by an assassin. So vivid was the dream that it was some time before he could compose himself to sleep
again. He did so, however, and told the
family next morning with whom he was stopping of his dream. Of course they
said it was very queer, but nothing further was thought about the matter. On
the 24th, however, a gentleman brought
the intelligence that the father of young Noble had, in reality, been robbed and
murdered on last Monday night.

Mainly Position of the New York Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The following are among the Albany resolutions:
Resolved, That regarding the national debt as a sacred obligation, we demand economy in the collection and application
of revenues, simplification and equality
in taxation and currency for the benefit
of the people, instead of corporations, to
the end that the public faith may be preserved and the burdens of taxation
lessened.

Resolved, That we denounce the effort
of the Radical party to retain the power
it has usurped by establishing negro
supremacy in the South by military
force, coupled with the disfranchisement
of the mass of the white population, as
an attempt to undermine and destroy
the Republic; and we stigmatize the refusal of that party in this State to submit the question of negro suffrage to the
people as a cowardly evasion of a paramount issue in the pending struggle.

THE REVIVAL MEETING at the Methodist Church is not yet closed. About
a hundred have professed conversion
since the meeting commenced over
five weeks ago—and seventy-one or seventy-two have joined that Church.—
May the good work still progress until
all shall feel its saving influence.

registry shows this result: White, 45,

abuse may be effectually removed without
medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cor-
dials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer,
no matter what his condition may be, may
cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
This Lecture will prove a Boon to
thousands and thousands.

LETTER FROM W. G. CLARK, Esq., President
OF THE SOUTHERN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

ATLANTA, April 19, 1867.

J. S. THRASHER Esq.:
Dear Sir—It affords me much pleasure to communicate to you the following resolution
of the Southern Press Association:
Resolved, "That as a testimonial of our appreciation for the zealous, faithful and effective service of John S. Thrasher, Esq., as Superintendent of this Association in years
past, we hereby tender him the thanks of this Association, and commend upon him the complimentary position of Agent of the Southern Press Association in the City of New York."
The terms of commendation employed in
the above resolution do no more than justice
to your important services during your su-
perintendency—services which none can more highly appreciate than myself. Should occasion require, I shall be glad to avail myself
of the aid provided for by the resolution.

Very Respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
W. G. CLARK, President.

NOTICE.

I would respectfully request every daily,
tri-weekly, semi-weekly, weekly and monthly
journal South of the Potomac and Ohio
rivers and the Alleg. 20 min. period of lat-tude West of the Mississippi, to publish this
advertisement twice, and send to me at New York, each time, a copy of the paper containing it, post paid, with bill for the same.

It is desirable in my combinations to secure cheaper printing paper for our Southern
journals, that I shall have the fullest information regarding the sizes of paper used by
the several publications, and I can procure it
in no other way than by requesting particular attention to the need of sending copy of
the publication with the bill.

I desire it sent twice to provide against mail
failures, and that they be post paid to secure
post office delivery.

GROVESTEEN & CO. Piano Forte Manufacturers,

499, Broadway, New York.

THE attention of the public and the trade
is invited to our New Scale, Seven Octave, Rosewood Piano-Fortes,
which for volume and purity of tone are un-
rivalled by any hitherto offered in this market. They contain all the modern improvements—French grand action, harp pedal, iron
frame, over-strung bass, etc.—and each instrument being made under the personal supervision of Mr. J. H. GROVESTEEN, who has
a practical experience of over thirty years in
their manufacture, is fully warranted in every particular.

The "Grovesteen Piano-Forte"
Received the highest award of merit at the celebrated World's Fair.

Where were exhibited instruments from the
best makers of London, Paris, Germany,
Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and New York;
and also at the American Institute for five
successive years, the Gold and Silver Medals
from both of which can be seen at our ware-
rooms.

The introduction of improvements we make a still more perfect Piano-Forte, and by manufacturing largely, with strict cash account, are enabled to offer these instruments at a price which will preclude all competition.
Our prices are from $100 to $200 cheaper
than any other first-class Piano-Forte.
Terms—Net cash in current funds.

MONTVALLE SPRINGS—1867.

THIS popular Summer resort having been placed in thorough repair, and furnished
with new furniture, will be opened for visitors on the 1st of June under the direction and control of the undersigned proprietors of the American Hotel, Atlanta Ga.

Montvale presents the strongest attractions
to both the invalid and pleasure seeker, no
less on account of its retirement and the beauty of its surrounding scenery, than of the restorative powers of its waters. We have reduced the price of board to the lowest figures
consistent with a proper provision for the entertainment of our guests.

Board per day $3 00, per week $20 00,
per month $60 00, with an allowance for families. Travelers by rail reach the Springs by special conveyance from London, or by regular daily mail coaches from Knoxville Tenn.

VOL. 31.

WHOLE NO. 1594.

Jacksonville Republican.

EDITED, PRINTED & PUBLISHED, EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, BY J. F. GRANT.

What the whole Northern Press says of the Elections.

The World's special says:

The friends of the Administration are confident of important changes in the Cabinet; to be followed by a wholesale decapitation of under officials. The President will take a stand which will astonish the country. Thomas Ewing and E. Corning are mentioned for Secretary of the Treasury. Secretary Seward will probably send his resignation from Auburn, and Hon. Reverdy Johnson is spoken of as his successor.

The same paper editorially says:

The elections are an indignity and unanimous veto upon the policy of the party in power.

The Herald's special says:

There are all manner of rumors regarding Cabinet changes. It is probable that some changes will be made before the session of Congress, but none have yet been determined upon.

The same paper editorially says:

The recent elections do not denote democratic victories, but that the republican element of the country has stepped aside to rebuke its leaders.

The N. Y. Times' special has good authority for the statement that the President has announced that, in view of the recent elections, he would make some changes in the Cabinet.

The same paper editorially says:

The elections indicate no increased confidence in the democratic party, but simply a reaction against the extreme acts and measures of the republican party, and convey admonition which ought to be salutary to the leaders.

The Tribune's special says:

The President will be serenaded Thursday night, when he will define his future policy. It is generally believed changes will be made in the Cabinet. It is stated that ex-Governor Seymour will succeed Seward; E. P. Blair, McClelland and Ewing are named for the war office, Gen. Howard is to be sent to the plains and Judge Holt got rid of.

The proposed serenade was peremptorily forbidden by the President.

Editorially, the same paper says:

The vital principles of genuine democracy will march on through a series of defeats to inevitable and conclusive triumph, through whatever trials of inconsistency, the great party will move right on to arduous but inevitable achievement of equal rights for all.

The Journal of Commerce, editorially says:

The republican leaders vainly thought they could lead the whole nation to the consummation of the wildest and most unconstitutional projects, but the more thoughtful of the mass refused to follow. If the elections do nothing more than divide the parties more equally, and thus check party arrogance, the effort will not have been lost.

The Sun says:

The masses of the Northern people desire a reconstruction policy giving security against further rebellion, and are opposed to the spiteful schemes of the republican extremists. Through the elections have been spoken, and if the republican party would save itself further reverse it must cast overboard the vagaries of certain leaders.

The Danville (Ky.) Advocate says: Owing to the continued dry weather, our farmers in this section of the State have not been able to prepare their ground for sowing wheat etc., and it is now getting too late to commence, even if we should have a change in the weather. But few hogs will be fattened for the market here, compared with last year. There is a marked decline in beef cattle, and a very general disposition on the part of holders to get rid of the stock now on hand.

The Great Drought.

Never, in the memory of the living, has Northern Ohio suffered such a drought as is now prevailing. For nearly three months hardly anything to be called a shower has fallen in this part of the Reserve. Everything in the way of foliage is parched, blackened, and covered with dust. Cisterns long since went dry, and now nine-tenths of the wells are nearly exhausted. In some cases cattle are driven six miles to water, and for ten miles back from the shore people depend upon the lake for water. Last week water was hauled from the lake at Sandusky to Bellevue—twenty miles by railroad, inland. In some localities water hauled a great distance is sold by the pailful, for cooking and washing purposes. The dust fills the air and creeps everywhere. It steals through the window blinds, and sifts through the roofs, covering furniture with a coating of grit, and worrying the life out of housekeepers, who stand, dusting brush in hand, looking in despair on the straggling flood of dust. The lake alone seems to be unaffected by the prolonged dryness; but if rain be much longer delayed we shall expect to hear of vessels aground in the midst of Lake Erie, and yawl boats stranded in the mud in our deepest harbors! The great drought reaches from Rochester, N. Y.—in a belt of about two hundred miles in width.

The way the Whites and Blacks were Swindled.

Barbour County.—A great many negroes had the idea that unless they went to Clayton and voted they would be fined fifty dollars and otherwise punished, and we heard of one instance of a negro man getting up out of a sick bed and starting for Clayton, although entirely unable to travel, saying to those who remonstrated with him that he had better do that than be fined fifty dollars and otherwise punished. So fully impressed were they with this idea that no amount of assurance from their white employees could convince them of the contrary. Many of them went to the polls armed, and a four mule wagon loaded with muskets was carried to the public square at Clayton, we suppose for the benefit of those who did not have arms in case of an emergency.

Barbour News.

Lee County.—It was curious, and to the philosophic mind none less instructive to observe the League subs. how faithfully they performed their parts in drilling and martializing this wretched mass. The column pressed up and closely guarded; there was agents whose business it was to go up and down the line to see if the negroes all had Radical tickets. Some tickets that negroes had in hand were taken away and others placed in them. Men were heard to tell the negroes not to open nor allow others to open the tickets given them, but to vote it just so. Others were heard to use threats to the negroes of what would be done with them if they did not vote as they were instructed.

Instances are known of negroes voting twice, once for themselves and once for Jim, who could not come. Many, many of the creatures went from the poll declaring that they did not know how they voted, nor who they voted for. Once in the "bull pen" their agency and responsibility passed into other hands.—Opelika Recorder.

Russell County.—Our report on yesterday of the votes given in was essentially correct. The total number polled was 1800, only 2 of which were given by whites. The number registered in the county, before the registers made their late revision, was 3,482. We do not know how this number was affected by the revision.

All the ballots, it is said, were closely scrutinized by white Radicals, and in many instances the tickets which the freedmen were carrying to the ballot box were taken from them and others substituted. The complete control of most of the negroes by a few Radicals who took them in charge was thoroughly disgusting. They never were so entirely subject to the will and control of their old masters.—Col. Sun.

GOOD BYE RADICALISM!

The Mail's dispatches, received late last night, announce the gratifying intelligence that the Democrats have achieved a glorious victory in Ohio and Pennsylvania. This news sounds the death knell of Radicalism and the Congressional usurpation policy.

Radical papers of Cincinnati admit that negro suffrage has been defeated in Ohio by 50,000 majority, and concede that the Democrats have carried the Legislature as well as elected their Governor. Colonel Swayne should immediately return to Ohio and reconstruct his native State!

The Democrats have also carried Pennsylvania by 9,000 majority. The republican majority in this State last year was 17,000. This is a glorious victory for the Democrats; and the Conservatives of the South can truly send greetings to their friends in the North and West.—Montgomery Mail.

The Atlanta Intelligencer, of yesterday, referring to Mrs. Lincoln's destitute condition, suggests as very appropriate a donation of "ten more acres of land" by the dirt eating majority of the City Council of that city.

"WOOD'S" PRIZE

MOWERS AND REAPERS!

Over 60,000 made and now in use in this country and Europe.

These world renowned machines were awarded the first prize, Ten Pounds Sterling, at the Great Quadrennial Trial at Plymouth England, July, 1863, and at the Great National Field Trial, held at Auburn, N. Y., in July, 1866, the First Premium, GRAND GOLD MEDAL.

The PRIZE MOWER,

While it retains all the advantages which have made it so universal a favorite, is greatly improved by the addition of Steel Lined Guards, New Pitman Connections, Stronger Knives, Spring Seat, Adjustable Folding Shoe,

Making it a perfect machine. The lightest draft, the most durable, and at the same time the most simple, and best cutting machine in the world.

The SELF-RAKE REAPER!

It is justly called the "Victor of every contest" and is constructed on the most scientific principles. The new Mowing Attachment gives general satisfaction and makes one of the most convenient combined Self-Rake Reapers known, and highly warranted it.

The HAND RAKE REAPER,

Is at the same time the cheapest and the best of its kind ever offered. It cuts a swath five feet wide in Reaping, and four and a half feet in Mowing. As a Mower it is equal to the best Folding Bar Machine in use. The ease with which it is managed, and its changing from Mower to Reaper, or vice-versa, will at once recommend it.

Improved Billiard Tables, With his PATENT CUSHIONS,

Well known to be superior to any now in use.

THE great popularity of SHARP'S IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES has rendered it necessary to make arrangements, in order to supply the increasing demand, and he is now prepared to fill any order with which his patron, or the public generally may favor him.

W. J. Sharp having had practical experience for nearly twenty years, in the manufacture of Billiard Tables, and having made a number of valuable improvements, he guarantees a Table, which for elasticity of touch, mechanical elegance of appearance, will challenge competition.

His newly invented patent Cushions having been pronounced by the most competent judges to be superior to any now in use, he is enabled to furnish the best Billiard Table manufactured in the United States, and sustain the name which Sharp's Tables so justly have acquired.

Balls, Cues and Trimmings constantly on hand. Old Cushions repaired at short notice. Orders by mail punctually attended to. Send for descriptive circular and price list.

JACKSONVILLE ACADEMY,

ENGLISH & CLASSICAL.

Prof. W. J. BORDEN, Principal, Rev. R. J. C. HALL, Assistant.

The exercises of this Institution will be resumed on Monday the 29th inst. in the large and commodious buildings provided for this purpose.

Such additional teachers will be employed as the number and wants of the pupils may require.

The plan of instruction is thorough and practical. The regulations, formed for the moral and intellectual improvement of the pupils, are mild, though positive, and are rigidly enforced.

The location is in the midst of a healthy and refined community. The expenses are moderate—from $15 to $20 per session for tuition, and from $15 to $20 per month for good board in private families.

Pupils received at any time and charged from the date of admission to the close of the session.

All interested are invited to give this Institution a rigid scrutiny, and if found worthy, to give it their patronage and support. For further particulars address the principal, or

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Manhattan Ink and Color Co.

49 LIBERTY STREET.

To Painters Furniture and other Manufacturers.

YOUR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE MANHATTAN PAINT OIL,

90 Cents Per Gallon. Invented by G. DURYEE, M. D. Chemist of New York.

Who has spent several years experimenting for a substitute for Linseed Oil.

It is well known that aloumen gives to oil from flaxseed all its lasting virtues; therefore, a chemical combination of aloumen with any other oil would make it equally valuable.

Knowing the prejudice against a new oil, especially after the odium of many failures, we have awaited severe tests before entering the arena. Neither shall we make vain promises or boast, but leave the merits of our oil to those who use it. We dare say this much, that after two years' trial, in all weather, this oil has been found as indestructible as the best flaxseed oil.

It may be thinned with turpentine or raw linseed oil.

With lead it dries in six hours! For a roofing oil it will be found just the thing.

The price is about two-thirds that of flaxseed oil.

It will not injure the most delicate colors, nor will it crack or peel off.

Furniture Manufacturers will like it for first coats to varnish on.

Builder makers and Iron Finishers will here find a substitute having the appearance of copal varnish.

Ship Painters are asked to give it a trial.

Among the many parties who have tried it we take pleasure in referring to

TO MANHATTAN PAINT OIL CO. I take pleasure in stating that I have used your Paint Oil on wood and iron, with different kinds of paint, and have no hesitation in saying that, in my opinion, it makes a better coating than flaxseed, and that, for all purposes where exposed to weather, is much preferable.

Yours, J. T. WILBURN.

By the Governor of Alabama, A PROCLAMATION.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF ALABAMA.

WHEREAS, information has reached this Department, that an atrocious murder was recently committed in Cleburne county upon the body of Michael Pessulani; and

Whereas, it is formally charged, that the said murder was perpetrated by JOSEPH MARKS; and it appearing that the said Marks has fled from justice, and is still running at large;

Now, therefore, with a view of vindicating the outraged law, and having the murderer brought to condign punishment, I, R. M. Patton, Governor of the State of Alabama, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of Three Hundred Dollars to any person who may arrest the said Joseph Marks, and deliver him into the custody of the Sheriff of Cleburne county.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Montgomery, this 5th day of June, A. D. 1867, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-first.

R. M. PATTON.

By the Governor, MICAH TAUL, Secretary of State.

DESCRIPTION.

Joseph Marks is low in stature; stout and heavy built, weighs about one hundred and seventy-five pounds; he is about twenty-five years of age; he has blue eyes, light hair, which was quite long when he fled; his complexion is fair. He is slow spoken. The second toe on the left foot has been cut, so that it hangs down. The first and third toes on the same foot, incline towards each other, and nearly if not quite touch.

BLANK LAND DEEDS and DEEDS OF TRUST, neatly and correctly printed, for sale by the quire or single copy, at this office. Also every description of Blanks for Justices of the Peace.

To Administrators and Executors.

Administrators and Executors who desire to publish notices of Grant of Letters, and Sales of Land and other property, in the Republican, can do so as heretofore. Such publications are required to be made, signed, and paid for by themselves, and not by the Judge of Probate—consequently they are not "official patronage," and not affected by Gen. Pope's order 49.

The attention of cotton planters is especially invited to the very favorable through rates of freight on cotton from Greensport and Gadsden to Charleston and New York, by the Coosa Steamboat Line, the advertisement of which may be found in this paper. Arrangements have been made, whereby parties can apply to the assessor with the weight and mark of his cotton and get a permit to ship and tax paid at destination, the party shipping returning to the assessor Bill Lading. These would facilitate very much shipments of cotton if the people were notified of it at the time; the assessor gives the permit, he also furnishes the party with the necessary tags.

Capt. Woodruff and John M. Wyle of this county have pamphlet copies of new regulations for shipments of cotton, containing all necessary instruction.

Cotton Seed Wanted.

We will give one year's subscription to the Jacksonville Republican for every 15 bushels of cotton seed delivered.

The attention of persons having business in the Courts, is invited to the law card of Mr. H. L. Stevenson, in another column.

No day is yet appointed for the Alabama Convention. It is supposed it will take place about the 1st of November.

STRANGE, YET TRUE.—That the female community in all sections, are grunting, suffering and lingering with so many diseases and ailments peculiar to their sex. Is there no balm for them? Is there no relief from so many female complaints and irregularities? Is there no Uterine Tonic to relieve these female distresses, to strengthen the feeble, to remove obstructions, to quiet the nervous, to restore, arouse, adorn and beautify the female sex? Yes, we have that medicine, and it is Dr. J. C. Williams' English Female Bitters.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of the 9th inst., after reporting the defeat of the negro suffrage amendment in Ohio by a large majority, says: "It will require great audacity, after this, for an Ohio man to talk about imposing negro suffrage upon other States which have a hundred times more negroes than we have."

It is worthy of remark that gold fell instantly the recent Democratic successes became known. The vote in Pennsylvania and Ohio has gone far toward inspiring confidence among the people, and will have no inconsiderable effect in the revival of trade and business throughout the country.

Synopsis of the Negro Election.

By reference to the tabular statement of the recent Ethiopian election held in this State by a military officer, it will be seen that thus far, out of 160,992 registered male adults, or 200,000 actual male adults, 4,472 have voted against a Convention. The law required that half of the registered male adults, 80,496, should vote on the question of calling a Convention. Thus far 79,963 have voted on the question. The few counties to be heard from, white counties, will not increase the vote for Convention by more than 3,000. It is still doubtful whether the Convention will represent a majority of the registered male adults. We are willing to pledge Col. Swaine our head for a football that his bogus Constitution will never touch bottom.—Montgomery Mail.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, an able and very influential radical paper, says the Congressional plain of reconstruction has failed because "it tried to circumvent the will of God," in the matter of conferring political power upon the negroes.

LATEST NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The pardon of R. M. T. Hunter, recently published, was written soon after the close of the war. His expressions of approval apply to Johnson's and not the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

Revenue receipts to-day $392,000; for the week $2,500,000; for the fiscal year $64,814,000.

Gen. Sherman is visiting his daughter in New York.

Gen. Schofield returns to Richmond to-morrow.

In a drunken row between stage passengers and escort, at Cameron crossing, on the Santa Fe road, three men were killed.

Franklin Pierce was serenaded at Concord, New Hampshire, on Wednesday night, and said:

"I warn you, my friends, to note the fact that these triumphs, whatever they may be, are no party triumphs; the people have risen in their majesty, with a consciousness of their power, and disregarding party lines and party organizations, have been silently considering what belongs to them, their children and their country. I think the great battle has been fought and won. If the results are significant in nothing else, they are in this, that the white race, our race—the German, Italian, French, Irish, Scotch and Anglo-Saxon people—are still to be the controllers of State on this continent."

The gubernatorial result in Ohio cannot positively be known until Tuesday.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—There were 46 yellow fever interments up to 6 o'clock this morning.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Yesterday's midnight Paris dispatches state that affairs in Italy are becoming grave. It is believed that the whole nation will follow Garibaldi.

The efforts of Victor Emanuel will soon cease on the frontier, and Rome will be proclaimed a part of the Kingdom of Italy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Money easy at 7 Gold closed firm at 44½.

RICHMOND, Oct. 12.—The case of General Imboden is exciting some interest. He applied to be permitted to register under the President's last amnesty proclamation, upon an oath to support the constitution, but was rejected. He now intends to apply to the U. S. District Court for a mandamus to compel the registering officer to register his name. In case the court refuses to grant the writ he will appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and thus test the validity of the oath required by the reconstruction act, and thus demonstrate what virtue there is in the pardon accorded by the President to the excluded classes.

The U. S. Deputy Marshal seized the British bark Mulhall, of Nova Scotia, at City Point to-day, to satisfy a claim of the mate. The captain resisted the seizure, was very impudent, and threatened the country with English vengeance. He telegraphed for advice to the English consuls at New York, Norfolk and Richmond, but was finally pacified, and yielded to the law.

Gen. O. Brown, Chief of the bureau, has received a letter from Norfolk explaining the troubles on the Taylor farm. The negroes have been allowed to remain there up to this time unmolested, although Taylor was pardoned more than a year ago. He has been endeavoring to get them off, but they have persistently refused to leave. A few days ago a party went out, accompanied by an agent of the bureau to try to persuade them to leave, offering them places on Gen. Wise's farm, which is still in the hands of the Government. The negroes assembled together, and through their spokesman refused all offers of compromise, declaring that the President had no right to pardon Taylor, and that they would remain on the farm and defend what they considered their property against all comers. Steps will be taken to eject them by civil process. There has been no outbreak as yet, and no armed demonstrations made. The conference was a peaceable and bloodless one; but it is feared that troubles will grow out of it, and blood may be shed before the squatters will leave.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—The North German Gazette says it is perfectly convinced of the sincerity of Napoleon's desire for peace.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 12.—Gen. Canby and staff leave for Columbus to-morrow to consult with Governors Orr and Worth.

It is reported that a party of negroes tore up the track of the South Carolina railroad last night at Hopkins, near Columbia. The train was thrown from the track and the cars robbed.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 14.—The board of health has declared the yellow fever epidemic here.

CANTON, Oct. 14.—On Sunday, in the German Reform Church, a man recently discharged from the penitentiary, approached his wife, who was divorced from him since his incarceration, and demanded her to kiss him, which the young woman was about to do when he plunged a butcher knife eleven times in her, and fled. He was captured, and with difficulty saved from a summary execution.

CASLINE, Oct. 14.—A fishing vessel belonging here, was wrecked off New Foundland, and seventeen men lost, of whom nine leave families.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The Treasury Department has advised of the death of D. B. Renfro, recently suspended from the Collectorship of the 4th Texas District.

L. D. Evans, recently appointed collector ad interim will succeed him.

A number of prominent Southern railroad men are here seeking an extension of time for payments due to the Government.

A special dispatch claims Hayes' election in Ohio by 3,000 majority.

Revenue receipts to-day $447,000. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has advised favorable to peace with the Indians. They will all be represented at the grand council, and they promise to send out no more war parties.

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—Gen. Schofield returned yesterday. His visit to the capital will not change the plan of reconstruction in this State.

MOBILE, Oct. 14.—Four interments from yellow fever to-day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Stocks excited, but lower since the last board.—Money 7 Gold 44½.

MOBILE, Oct. 14.—Cotton in good demand; sales 1,500 bales; receipts 1,021 bales; market closed firm at 16 to 16½ for middlings.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—There are one hundred and thirty military and many treasury officers here and elsewhere waiting for the subsidence of the fever, to proceed to duty in the fifth military district.

Resolutions were introduced in the Tennessee Legislature favoring Grant's nomination and abolishing the cotton tax.

The democrats have gained three State Senators in Iowa, and 10 000 votes. The republica majority is 200,000.

No Cabinet changes unless the Secretary resigns peremptorily, which is improbable until after the New York election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The State Department has advised from Malta, to Sept. 20th. The cholera had appeared there.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says Shars wood's majority is seven hundred and forty-four.

The republicans have fifteen majority on joint ballot.

Revenue receipts to-day $310,000. Beauregard had an interview with Grant to-day.

Generals Ord and Pope are expected here to-morrow.

The Herald contains the following analysis of the Ohio elections:

At the election for Congressmen in Ohio last year, the Republicans carried sixteen out of the nineteen districts in the State. The Democrats elected their candidates in the 5th, 12th and 15th districts; the latter by a majority 271, which Columbus Delano, the defeated candidate, is now contesting.

At the election on the 8th inst the democrats carried twelve out of nineteen districts, and came within 100 votes of carrying two or three others. In the two districts carried by them last year, and not contested, their majorities increased from 2,652 to 5,264 in the 5th district, and from 3,210 to 6,002 in the 12th district, while in the 13th district, which is being contested, the democratic majority increased from 271 to 1,849.

In every republican district the majorities are cut down immensely. In the 7th district, which gave Hon. Samuel Shelbarger 2,171 majority last year, the radicals escaped with a bare majority of 95 at the recent election, while in the 8th district the majority was reduced from 1,852 to 62. In the 2d district the radical candidate was defeated by nearly 1,000 votes. Gen. Carey, his successful opponent, although personally in favor of negro suffrage, is opposed to forcing it upon any State, and pledged himself to the democrats to oppose any measures looking to the passage of a bill by Congress enfranchising the blacks, either in the North or South.

He may therefore be regarded as an opponent of the Congressional policy of reconstruction. The most significant feature about the districts is the resolution in the tenth.

This district is represented by Mr. J. W. Ashley, the member of Congress who brought in articles of impeachment against the President.

As will be seen the republican loss is 2,040, giving the democrats a majority of 124 in the District.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Col. Gilbert, who was implicated in destroying an Arkansas printing office, has been fined $1,000 and reduced to a captaincy taking rank at the foot of the list.

CABLE NEWS.

Great activity prevails in the Toulon Naval Arsenal.

Garibaldi has issued another address urging the Italians as a nation to arm.

Mazen has issued a manifesto urging the patriots of Rome to rise and proclaim a republic.

If pressed, the Pope will take refuge in Bavaria.

Skirmishing on Papal territory continues. Reports are conflicting, both sides claiming the advantages. No very important conflict has occurred.

Monati Garibaldi drove the Papal troops into Monte Maggiore.

Three hundred Garibaldians who blocked the road to Monte Liberal were driven away.

The New York Times concludes an editorial with: "But we are inclined to think that the Northern States will not surrender their own rights quite so complacently as they have consented to the overthrow of those of the South."

Changes in the Cabinet.

The Nashville Gazette of the 12th inst. says that Senator Paterson, the President's son-in-law, stated publicly Wednesday night that Ex-Governor Seymour will succeed Seward. From a similar source it is learned that Frank P. Blair, Jr., Gen. McClelland and Gen. Ewing are named for the War Office. Mr. Johnson has failed to make the use he wished of Gen. Sherman. For Secretary McCulloch's place are several names mentioned. Messrs. Black and Cowan are mentioned as the representatives of Pennsylvania. New York prefers and will ask for the Treasury Department, and will give the State Department to Pennsylvania. Gen. Howard is expected to be assigned to a command in Texas or on the plains, and Judge Holt is to be disposed of in the same way. The Clerks in the Department who still remain true to their Radical principles are very nervous, and fear discharge.

THE ALABAMA ELECTION.

The Radical presses of this State are boasting of the result of the recent election in Alabama. Much good may the "nigger" victory do them! A few more such triumphs, and "Satan will be sure to get his own," for if anything can disgust the people of the North with radicalism, and arouse them to a sense of the danger the whole country is in, such triumphs will be sure to accomplish it. In the county of Russell, for instance, only two white votes were polled while the whole number of registered voters were 3,550; and so in many other counties of Alabama, the whites kept from the polls—hence the majority over which there is a flourishing of trumpets, the braying of fools, and the gloatings of the pestiferous, the vindictive radical.

Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says:—"There is some prospect that Pope's order forbidding the publication of advertisements in Conservative papers will be revoked by the President, so that the people of Alabama and Georgia can bestow their patronage upon papers of their choice."

WAR RUMORS.

The Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, under date of the 3d inst., seems to take high grounds in favor of an impending war between the United States and England. He speaks authoritatively as to the determination of the British Government to listen to no more representation, in any form, on the subject of the depredations of the Confederate steamer, Alabama.

That correspondent says, on the authority of a well informed Englishman, "that the English Government and the Parliament of England, as a whole, regard the United States, as practically rent in twain as the result of the war; as having become, in effect, two distinct people, with all masks and disguises thrown aside, and with the purpose of the North in making the war—to conquer and subjugate the South—clearly revealed. Even the Romans, when they conquered foreign States, left them in the enjoyment of their own laws and customs, and usages, and magistrates."

"If the Radical party, this gentleman says, after conquering the South, had displayed the usual magnanimity of enlightened conquerors, there would have been a hope that the North and South might once more have become a united nation. But the manner in which they have treated the citizens of the Southern States, forcing upon them negro suffrage and negro equality in its most offensive form, proves plainly enough that the North will never admit the Southern States into the Union as equal States."

The balance of the letter clearly indicates that on this apparent division, England bases her hopes of success, in a war against this country—and this is one of the results of Radical tyranny.

But the voice of the people will be heard in condemnation of that tyranny, and when once more this Union is one of mutual interest and not one of brutal force, foreign powers will again learn to respect it.—Mobile Times.

[From the New York Post, Radical.]

The editor mourns over Ohio, mourns grievously over negro suffrage lost there. The High Protective Tariff, however, the editor then reasons, has been as bad an issue, as the negro.

"It cannot be denied that there has been a good deal of inconsiderate, and even dangerous legislation in Congress, during the past two years. There has been a great deal more inconsiderate and dangerous talk. There are still threats made by men who ought to know better, which are nothing less than revolutionary, and of these things the people are getting weary. They tell their representatives in Congress that instead of listening to their enthusiasts, to their extreme men, to their Sumners, their Stevens, and their Butlers, it would be better to listen to the dictates of good sense, to the strict requirements of constitutional law and to men of moderation and statesmanship."

From the Cincinnati Enquirer, Democratic.]

Language fails to give vent to our expression of joy. The good people of Ohio on Tuesday gave expression to their indignation by casting their votes for the Democratic party. The insult offered them by the negro worshippers, was rebuked in manner and form not to be misunderstood. This is but the first installment—the balance we will pay next year by giving Ohio to the Democracy by 50,000 majority. The election of Sam. Cary is the first gun in favor of the people's plan of paying off the National debt. Town, city and county will take it up, emblazon it on their banners, and carry it triumphantly over the heads of the bonded and bank aristocracy. We introduce to our friends our old game cock, who has been absent for some years, but of late has frequently appeared. It will be seen, this morning, that he looks game, and exceedingly well pleased over the promising aspect of political affairs.

The South.

According to Radical geography, the South is in the Union for some purposes and out of the Union for others. The Southern States are, "States" when the votes or the action of States is needed, and they are simply Territories when their own rights are to be regarded.—They are either States or they are not. The Executive, the Legislative, and the Judicial branches of the Government have repeatedly recognized them as States. It is too late now for a miserable Congressional faction to affect to treat them otherwise. So says the National Intelligencer.

Elections Returns.

There is some doubt as to who is elected Governor of Ohio. The Radicals last year had a majority of 47,000, and now it will require the official returns to determine which party has elected the Governor. The Legislature is conceded to be Democratic. Pennsylvania has gone Democratic by a small majority.—Rome Courier.

MARRIED—Oct. 15th, 1867, at the residence of Mr. H. A. Earns, Jacksonville, Ala., by the Rev. D. F. Smith, Mr. SAMUEL BOSTOCK, of Columbus, Ga., to Miss MARY ALICE EARNs, of Philadelphia, Penn.

MEDICAL AUTHORITIES have announced that not less than ONE-FIFTH of the entire population of the United States are afflicted with Neuralgia in some form. Surely the man who can safely remove such a vast aggregate of pain is a great public benefactor. Such is Doctor Turner, of Boston, in Massachusetts, the "UNIVERSAL NEURALGIA PILLS," is pronounced on all hands, to be an entirely harmless and perfectly certain remedy for this most torturing of all known diseases. Religious Notice.

The Jacksonville Bible Society at a late meeting employed the Rev. E. B. McClellan as a Co-pastor for Calhoun county, and other parts of the country, that he may be able and see practicable to visit. We ask of all, who love the bible, the truth it contains and the fruits that grow out of its practice, to give him liberal contributions as well as a warm-hand reception, thus enabling the society to extend this important work. Many families are without the bible and have no money to buy, these should be furnished; some are without, not for the want of money, but from the want of an opportunity to buy, these should have a Colporteur.

We have a fine little lot of bibles and testaments and can get more—with the money Help to distribute these, help to buy more, and circulate them.

Help, the people are needy—the society alive—willing; you will do nothing more than your duty.

New Sewing Machine.—We examined the other day a new Sewing Machine, manufactured by Bliss & McCallum, of Louisville, Ky. This is called the "Common Sense Family Sewing Machine," and comes nearer being what the name indicates, than any of the machines we have ever examined, by its simplicity of construction, its durability, and freedom from complication and liability to get out of order, and if it should, can easily understood in all its parts, and repaired or put in order by any lady using it. It works smoothly, neatly and rapidly, and is warranted by the manufacturers to perform good work for three years. It is cheap and we have little doubt but it will be found more useful and valuable than many descriptions of machines which cost more than three times its price.

Mr. J. M. Forbes, of Oxford, is agent for the sale of these machines in this State, and will take the names of persons who may desire them, and deliver the machines at any specified time. Mr. F. will pass through the country; and exhibit a model machine, and in his absence, a note addressed to him at Oxford will be attended to.

I've Been Thinking.

I've been thinking, I've been thinking,
What a glorious world there is,
Did folks mind their business more,
And mind their neighbors' business less.

For instance, you and I, my friend,
Are sadly prone to talk—
Of matters that concern us not,
And other follies mock.

I've been thinking if we'd begin
To mend our own affairs,
That possibly our neighbors might Contrive to manage theirs.

We've faulted enough at home to mend—
It may be so with others;
It would seem strange, if it were not,
Since all mankind were brothers.

Oh! would that we had charity,
For every man and woman,
Forgiveness is the mark of those Who know to "err is human."

Then let us banish jealousy—
Let's lift our fallen brother,
And as we journey down life's road,
"Do good to one another."

Conflict and Conquest.

Courage, brother, do not stumble,
Though thy path be dark as night;
There's a star to guide the humble:
"Trust in God, and do the right."

Let the road be rough and dreary,
And its end far out of sight,
Foot it bravely—strong or weary,
"Trust in God, and do the right."

Perish "policy" and "cunning!"
Perish all that fears the light!
Whether losing, whether winning,
"Trust in God, and do the right."

Trust no party, sect or fashion;
Not no "leaders" in the fight;
In every word and action,
"Trust in God, and do the right."

Trust no lovely forms of passion;
Friends may look like angels bright;
Trust no custom, school or fashion,
"Trust in God, and do the right."

Simple rule, and safest guiding,
Inward peace and inward might,
Star upon our path abiding:
"Trust in God, and do the right."

Some will hate thee, some will love thee,
Some will flatter, some will slight;
Cease from man, and look above thee,
"Trust in God, and do the right."

"ADOPTED."

"It's very strange," muttered Blanche Penroy, slowly weaving together the wreath of scarlet autumn leaves with which she was decorating her broad brimmed straw hat.

She made a beautiful picture, sitting there all alone in the mellow glow and color of autumn woods, the shawl drooping from her shoulders, and the sunshine lighting up her auburn curls with glittering threads of gold, while, upon the fallen tree trunk that formed her impromptu seat, lay a tiny bunch of grasses and autumnal flowers.

She was transparently fair, with purple tangles of veins in each waxen temple, and a faint pink bloom on her cheek, while her eyes, large and grave, tender expression of an infant.

"Yes, it is very strange," went on Miss Penroy, musing with herself. "I know so little about him—I have only known him ten days—yet, when he spoke about leaving Elm Point last night it seemed as if all the sunshine were going out of the world for me, O, Blanche!" she added, leaning forward and apostrophizing the tan face mirrored in the glass stream at her feet. "Is it possible that you've allowed yourself to fall in love with that tall, black-eyed young Southerner?—Ten days ago I had never seen him, and now!"

The roses mounted up into her cheek as she wondered within herself whether Mr. Evering cared for her.

scarlet and brown-spotted maple leaf required a great deal of adjustment in the ribbon of her hat.

"Blanche—shall I go or stay?" "Just as you please, Mr. Evering, of course."

"No; just as somebody else pleases. Yes or no! And I forewarn you, and yes means a great deal."

"How much does it mean?" questioned Blanche, half archy, half timorously.

"Everything!" "Then you may stay!" "My Blanche—my little white daisy!" he whispered, bending his stately head over the slender hand that lay on the autumn leaves.

And Blanche felt that in the golden stillness of that October dell, she had turned a new page in the book of life!

She was very, very happy, and all that day she seemed to be walking through the bright mysteries of a dream. But alas, that shadow should always follow sunshine in this world of ours.

"I'm not disposed to be unreasonable, Blanche," said Gilbert, in a whisper, as he arranged her white shawl for her, amid the merry tumult of the picnic ground, "but I do think you have waited quite often enough with that puppy, Birmingham!"

"Jealous, already, Gilbert!" taunted the girl, flushed and rosy with the triumphs of her beauty, and the irresistible instincts of coquetry. She colored crimson.

At the same instant young Birmingham came up.

"May I have the pleasure of this polka with you, Miss Penroy?"

And Blanche, defiant and wilful, and little piqued, answered:

"Yes."

And glided away with her plump hand on Walter Birmingham's shoulder. Gilbert had no business to be so unreasonable!

His grave, stern face rather startled her as she came once more to the rustic seat of twisted boughs, when the string band music was silent, and Mr. Birmingham had gone to bring her a glass of iced lemonade.

"Gilbert! why do you look so cross?" "Because I have reason. I am sorry you pay so little attention to my wishes, Miss Penroy."

She drew herself up haughtily.

"You are beginning to dictate early, sir!"

"Have I not the right?" "Nothing of the sort, Mr. Evering."

"Be it so, Blanche," he said in a voice that betrayed how deep the arrow rankled in his bosom. I give up the right now and henceforward."

Blanche was startled. She would have said more, but Walter Birmingham was advancing towards her, and when next she had leisure to look around Gilbert was gone from her side.

"What have I done?" she thought in dismay. "I'll see him this evening and coax him into a good humor once more. He surely can't be vexed at me for an idle word like that."

Ah, little Blanche, it is not the well considered sentence that does all the harm in this word—it is the idle word!

"Such a charming day as we have had, Mrs. Traune," said Blanche, as she came up the steps of the hotel piazza, as smiling and radiant as if the worm remorse was not gnawing at her heart.

"That, of course," said the blooming matron, who was reading in an easy chair under the shadow of the vines— "But what sent Mr. Evering away in such a hurry?"

"Sent him away?"

"She rang the bell with an impatient jerk."

"Are there any letters, Sanderson?" "One ma'am; it came by the evening post about five minutes ago."

"Light the gas, then, and give it to me."

Blanche sat down by the fire and opened the letter, suppressing a yawn.

"Black edged—and black seal! So poor Mrs. Marchmont is gone at last!"

It was from the executors of Penroy's distant cousin, formally and briefly announcing her death, which had taken place in one of the West India Islands some months since; but of which "the melancholy news," as the letter ran, had only just been received.

It was not entirely unexpected, as Mrs. Marchmont had, for some years been slowly fading out of the world, a victim to hereditary consumption.

"Leaving one child, a son," slowly repeated Blanche, leaning her cheek on her hand and looking down into the fiery quiver of the white hot coals.

"Poor little fellow! he must feel nearly as desolate and lone as I do! Only I have one advantage—I have at least a sufficiency of this world's goods, and this orphaned child must be thrown penniless and alone on his own resources, for if I remember right, Mrs. Marchmont forfeited all the wealth of her first marriage by her second alliance with the poverty-stricken lawyer, whose death plunged her into such bitter mourning."

That was a genuine love match, yet how much grief and trouble it brought with it! Leaving one child, a son! Why should I not adopt the stray waif, and make it a business of my life to cherish and comfort him? I have no object in existence, here is one that Providence itself seems to point out to me."

Once more she rang the bell, with a fresh color glowing in her cheeks and a new light in her eyes.

"Bring in my writing case immediately, Sanderson, and get ready to take a letter to the post as soon as possible!"

The old servant obeyed, wondering at his mistress' unwonted energy, and yet well pleased to see some of her animation returning.

"She do look more like herself to-night, do Miss Blanche, than she has for a long time," he said to his house-keeper, as he came down after obeying her summons. "I only wish Miss Blanche would take a fancy to some nice, proper behaved young man; it don't seem nohow right that she should live all by herself in this big house so forlorn-like."

The house-keeper nodded sagaciously to all Mr. Sanderson's propositions. She fully agreed with him. "Only Miss Blanche was too wilful ever to hear a word of advice."

It was a very simple and unconscious letter that Blanche Penroy wrote to her far away cousin's executors from the fullness of her heart:

"I shall never marry now," she wrote, "and it seems to become my plainly indicated duty to undertake the care of this orphan child of Mrs. Marchmont's. With your approval, therefore, I propose to adopt him, and endeavor, as far as in my power, to supply to place of his lost mother. You may at first deem me young to undertake so grave and serious a responsibility; and I am very, very much older in thought and feeling than my years. Of course, at my death, the child will inherit the property which was left me by my deceased parents."

"I hope my cousin's executors are like the wise white-headed old lawyers one reads about in novels," said Blanche to herself as she folded the little perfumed sheet of pink paper. "and not cross old tuddies, talking of 'expedience' and 'appropriates,' for I do so much want somebody to love and care for, and somehow I've a sort of premonition that this little fellow will be nice, and rosy and lovable. I think I'll teach him to call me 'auntie.'"

Just a week subsequent, a prim legal note was received from Messrs. Alins & Corpus, the deceased lady's executors, stating that "they saw no valid objection to Miss Penroy's very laudable projects, and that in accordance thereto, the child of the late Mrs. Marchmont would arrive at Miss Penroy's residence on the following Saturday night."

"Saturday night—and this is Friday," ejaculated Blanche, with a new brightness dancing in her hazel eyes. "O, how glad shall I be! Sanderson, tell Mrs. Brown to have the blue room fitted up immediately for Master Marchmont, and you had better go yourself to the depot with the carriage, at five to-morrow afternoon, to meet him."

"Yes, ma'am," said Sanderson, stolidly. The apparition of a great unruly boy tramping with muddy boots on the velvet carpets and haunting the house with ball and marbles, and lung-splitting "halloes," did not possess the charms to Sanderson's eyes that it seemed to his mistress. And even patient Mrs. Brown remarked with a species of exasperation, that "she didn't see what put this freak into Miss Blanche's

Saturday was a day of hail and tempest, and softly falling snow, and by five o'clock the drawing rooms were lighted, and the crimson silk curtains closely drawn, to exclude the stormy darkness without.

Six times within the last fifteen minutes had Blanche Penroy looked at her watch, as she stood by the fire waiting to hear the returning carriage wheels.

She was dressed in a rich China-blue silk dress, with pearl pin and ear drops, and a little point lace at her throat and wrists, and the color in her cheeks, and the golden glimmer in her bright hair, made her unconsciously very fair to look upon.

"Oh, I hope—I hope he will like me," thought Blanche, with the instinctive yearning for love that comes to every woman's heart as the door opened.

"Here's the young gentleman, Miss," said Sanderson, with a half suppressed sound between a laugh and a snort.

But instead of a child seven or eight years old, a tall apparition stalked in, something over six feet high, with a black woustach, and merry hazel eyes, brimming over with mirth. For an instant Blanche started at him as if she could hardly credit the evidence of her own senses.

"Gilbert?" "Exactly. You wanted to adopt me, and here I am."

"No, but Gilbert?" "Yes, but Blanche?"

"You are not Mrs. Marchmont's son?" "I am—by her first marriage. And though I am by no means the penniless infant you seemed to suppose, as half my father's wealth comes to me, I am quite willing to be adopted—particularly as you are not married to Walter Birmingham."

Blanche struggled between tears and laughter, uncertain which could best express her feelings. But Gilbert's eyes drew her tenderly toward him.

"If you adopt me, dearest, it must be for life. Nay, do not hesitate—happiness has been already too much the mercy of trifles. You will not retract your offer?"

"Well, after all," said Blanche, demurely, "all I wanted was somebody to love and care for."

"And I shall do very well in the capacity of—"

And Sanderson, who had been diligently listening at the door, crept down stairs to inform Mrs. Brown that "they were going to have a new master."

A PROCLAMATION.
STATE OF ALABAMA.

WHEREAS, information has reached this Department, that an atrocious murder was recently committed in Cleburne county upon the body of Michael Pessully; and

Whereas, it is formally charged, that the said murder was perpetrated by JOSEPH MARKS; and it appearing that the said Marks has fled from justice, and is still running at large;

Now, therefore, with a view of vindicating the outraged law, and having the murderer brought to condign punishment, I, R. M. Patton, Governor of the State of Alabama, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of

to any person who may arrest the said Joseph Marks, and deliver him into the custody of the Sheriff of Cleburne county.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the city of Montgomery, this 5th day of June, A. D. 1867, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-first.

R. M. PATTON.
By the Governor,
MICAH TAUL,
Secretary of State.

DESCRIPTION.
Joseph Marks is low in stature; stout and heavily built, weighs about one hundred and seventy-five pounds; he is about twenty-five years of age; he has blue eyes, light hair, which was quite long when he fled; his complexion is fair. He is slow spoken. The second toe on the left foot has been cut, so that it hangs down. The first and third toes on the same foot, incline towards each other, and nearly if not quite touch.

An Earnest Appeal.

Gen. Pope's Order 49, taking from our paper and all others of like political characters, all the official patronage of civil officers, has thrown us entirely up-
on our resources from indebtedness for
former work, to sustain our paper until
"these calamities be overpast."

We are suffering from this vital stab
at the liberty of the press, and unparalleled proscriptio for political opin-
ion's sake, because we have advocated
the cause of Constitutional liberty, and
the rights of the people against military
despotism. Will they suffer our paper
to be crushed by withholding what is already due? We confidently hope and
believe they will not. If but a large proportion of those indebted to us for
subscription, will come forward within
the next month and settle up, which
would be but a small matter to them
individually, it would in the aggregate
afford us ample relief. Could not, also,
many of our present patrons, by a little
effort, get at least one other good paying subscriber. Friends, we think we have a right to ask this at your hands; and
we shall see whether there be none left
to aid those who are made to suffer loss
for their adherence to principle.

It is our purpose, commencing with
this number to increase the amount of
reading matter, and leave no effort un-
used to make our paper still more interesting and valuable to its patrons.

Strange, Yet True.—That the female community in all sections, are grunting, suffering and lingering with so many diseases and ailments peculiar to their sex. Is there no balm for them? Is there no relief from so many female complaints and irregularities?
Is there no Uterine Tonic to relieve these female distresses, to strengthen the feeble,
to remove obstructions, to quiet the nervous,
to restore, arouse, adorn and beautify the female sex? Yes, we have that medicine, and it is Dromgoole & Co.'s English Female Bitters.

Repeal the Cotton Tax.

The present farming year has been a disastrous one, and it is within reasonable bounds to say that very few planters have cleared expenses. The ravages of the army and boll worm reduced the cotton crop one half. The decline in cotton, is even worse than the short crop, and added to all this, is the 2 1/2 percent collected on every pound of cotton. These things combined make Southern planters carry heavier loads than any class of agricultural people—
Some of the Republican papers are beginning to see the injustice of the cotton tax, which at last is a bounty to New England Manufacturers, and are urging Congress to make its repeal one of the first measures acted on at the November Session.

The Chicago Tribune (Radical) has come to the conclusion that this tax, besides being hard on the producer, is detrimental to the general interests of the country, and "more than all injurious to the negro."

the tax was doubted by the Congress that enacted it. This is the view taken by so many prominent papers and men that the usually well informed Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier believes that the tax will be abolished at the next session, and that a bounty to encourage its production will be granted. It is now apprehended at the North that the tax and the uncertainty of negro labor will destroy the system of cotton growing upon large plantations, and that, if so, its production will be greatly diminished.

LATEST NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The Charge d' Affairs from Hayti was received at the State Department to-day.
Revenue receipts to-day $224,000.
The New York Post's special says that six of the nine members of the Judicial committee favor pushing on the impeachment.
The Boston Post's special says the President expresses the determination to resist suspension during the trial, should the emergency arise.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 18.—In a well authenticated conversation, the President expressed himself to the following effect regarding the impeachment: He apprehended that the radical leaders would become more desperate than ever, and hesitate at nothing to accomplish their revolutionary purposes. Referring to suspension before conviction, he says he will resist with all the powers the Constitution furnishes for its own protection. In the Cabinet there must necessarily be a change, and before the meeting of Congress a change would be made. He will neither consult now, or be governed by party cliques, but will draw around him men of ability, nerve and patriotism.

Aluding to Gen. Sherman, he says he will be here between the 10th and 17th of November, in ample time for the discharge of any duty, however responsible, which may devolve on him.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 18.—There was a full attendance at the Cabinet meeting to-day.
Receipts of customs for the week, ending the 12th, amount to $2,938,- 000.

The Secretary of the Treasury has made a demand for reclamation on persons from whom the Treasury has recently received about $30,000 worth of alleged counterfeit seven-thirty notes.
The Department claims that in the course of business the understanding always is that United States notes are thoroughly examined here; they are at the risk of the parties transmitting them.
Should parties refuse to make satisfaction for counterfeit notes the Secretary will take advice of the Attorney General in order to determine his action.

Revenue receipts to-day $254,000.
Archbishop Spaulding arrived on the steamer Persia.

Meeting of the Convention.

HEADQUARTERS 3d MILITARY DIST., (Georgia, Alabama and Florida.)
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18, 1867.

General Orders, No. 76:

Whereas, By General Orders, No. 59
from Headquarters, dated August 31, 1867, an election was ordered to be held in the State of Alabama, on the First, Second and Third days of October, 1867, at which election, in pursuance to an act of Congress, entitled "An act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," and the act supplementary thereto, the registered voters of said State might vote "for a Convention," or "against a Convention," and for delegates to constitute the Convention in case a majority of all the registered voters should have voted on the question of a Convention.

Whereas, at an election held in pursuance of said order, and in conformity with said acts, there were polled on the question of Convention, votes to the number of ninety-five thousand eight hundred and sixty-six (95,866,) being more than one half of one hundred and sixty-five thousand eight hundred and thirteen (165,813,) the whole number of registered voters in said State, in adding those registered during the five days mentioned in said order; of the whole number of votes polled on the question of Convention, ninety thousand two

It is ordered, That the persons above named do meet in Convention, at Moungomery, Alabama, at the Capitol, on Tuesday, the fifth day of November, 1867, and proceed to frame a Constitution and Civil Government for the State of Alabama, according to the provisions of the Acts above referred to, and that when the same shall have been so framed the said Constitution be submitted for ratification to the registered voters of said State as further required by law.

JOHN PORE,

Brevet Maj. Gen. U. S. Army.

* Mistake—C. L. Steed was the other delegate.

The Bowling Green (Ky.) Democrat states that a widowed lady named Blankenship who lived in Allen county, Ky., lost her husband about two months ago, leaving her with the care of three children. On the 16th ult., while washing at a branch near her residence, her two oldest children (boys) were bitten by a rattlesnake. Their screams attracted her attention and she ran to their assistance, finding one already dead and the other barely able to relate the circumstances. In her excitement she had left her little girl just able to walk, and while she was with her boys, this child fell into the wash-tub, and was drowned. Thus within a few minutes was every child she had taken from her.

Petroleum a Cure for Hog Cholera.

The following letter published in the Hartsville Vedette communicates very important information:

Editor VEDETTE: It has lately been ascertained by an undoubted test that petroleum oil in its crude state is a certain cure for hog cholera. A very worthy and reliable citizen of Jackson county, Tennessee, Parson Thadus C.
Quarles, has lately applied the above remedy with complete success. I received my information from him in person, and can rely upon and vouch for every word he says. Parson Quarles, some days ago, having on hand about 125 head of hogs, they were attacked by the cholera in its worst form. Every one of his hogs that took the disease died, and his valuable stock of hogs were being fast swept away by the dread disease. The parson had heard from some one that petroleum oil was a remedy for the disease and came to the conclusion to give it a trial.

esboro Landing where some of the Spring Creek Oil in its crude state was stored, preparatory to being sent to market, and procured one gallon of oil and carried it home. When he arrived at home several of his hogs were affected with the disease. He put some of the oil on corn and fed it to them. At the next feeding his hogs that were sick seemed to be better. He fed them in this way three or four times, and the result was that every one of his hogs that were sick when he commenced applying the remedy, got well and not one has taken the disease since. His hogs, he informs me, are now all healthy and sound, and doing well. I give this information to the public because I regard it important. It is worth a trial to say the least of it.

Respectfully, etc.,
R. A. COX.
Gainesboro, Sept. 16th, 1867.

MEDICAL AUTHORITIES have announced that
not less than ONE-FIFTH of the entire population of the United States are afflicted with Neuralgia in some form. Surely the man who can safely remove such a vast aggregate of pain is a great public benefactor. Such is Doctor Turner, of Boston, in Massachusetts.
His "UNIVERSAL NEURALGIA PILLS" is pronounced on all hands, to be an entirely harmless
and perfectly certain remedy for this most tormenting of all known diseases.

DOWN THE RIVER.

By FRED VERNERSON.
Life is but a river,
Upon whose tide we swiftly glide.

Over the tide we swiftly sail,
Onward we glide before the gale,
Mournfully now the winds do wail,
Down the river of time;
Threatening clouds above us rise,
Hiding from view, cerulean skies,
Down the river of time.

Storm upon storm comes o'er our way,
Bringing to us a sad, dark day,
Shutting from view our hope's bright ray,
Down the river of time;

Pilgrims are bowing weekly round,
Looking above, where hope is found,
Down the river of time.

Fearful, with awe our hearts now fill,
Faithful, we yield to God's own will,
Christ, to the deep, speaks: "Peace, be still!"

Down the river of time;
Seas become calm, the storm is past,
Thankful and safe we feel at last,
Down the river of time.

Onward, so smooth, we drift once more,
Beacons of light hang just before;
Weeks, here and there, lie on the shore,
Down the river of time;
Many who launched out on the wave
Faithless, have found a dark, deep grave,
Down the river of time.

Thus, upon life's dark misty tide,
Tempests will come our hopes to hide—
Faith in our Lord must be our guide,
Down the river of time;
Thus if we pray, when faint and weak,
Strength will He give to all who seek,
Down the river of time.

Jacksonville, Ala. Oct. 21st, 1867.

The Issue Involved in the Ohio Contest.

In forming an estimate of the significance of the Radical loss of nearly fifty thousand votes in a single year in Ohio, it is necessary that we should understand the issues upon which the contest for power there was joined. A few weeks ago, we republished Mr. Pendleton's intemperate speech. Below we give an extract from a very able address delivered at McConnellsville, Ohio, Sept. 27th, by Hon. D. W. VORNESS, of Indiana, only regretting our inability to reproduce the whole speech.

Selma Messenger.

After an able and exhaustive analysis of the infamous policy of reconstruction adopted by Congress, which was deemed in the strongest possible terms, Mr. Vorness said:

"Having thus discussed the Congressional policy in some of its features, let me discuss it in another which presents itself with great force to the laboring, tax-paying men of this country. You have got this policy; it is a fact fixed upon the country. You have negro suffrage under it throughout the South; you have negro supremacy in many of the States, and these principles are spreading to the State of Ohio. Now, if there is a Radical here, or in the State of Ohio, who looks upon this policy with approval or simply with indifference, let me ask him if he is aware of how much it is costing him in money, in dollars and cents? There are many things that look well in the abstract, but if they should prove to be very expensive their appearance would materially change. You may be in love with this Congressional policy, but do you know how much expense it is to the country? The bill is rendered to you, and you pay it. The tax-gatherer comes and gives you the account and tells you to settle it. He receipts it. What is the tax-gatherer's bill upon the nation. The Congressional policy requires a standing army covering five military districts, to enforce negro suffrage at the point of the bayonet. That's the use made of the standing army. Who pays for it? Here comes in the point for the Radical tax-payer. You have got negro suffrage; yes, and you pay for it.

The standing army to enforce negro suffrage throughout the South, and the standing army cost you money. Well, says one, 'how much?' We hadn't thought of that? Let me tell you in a quiet way. In his last report, the Secretary of War estimated that the expense of the army this year would be about $285,000,000. I was in Congress long enough to know that all such estimates are always under instead of over, and instead of $285,000,000, we may safely conclude that taxes to the amount of $300,000,000 a year will have to be collected to support this standing army, with which to enforce the Congressional policy of reconstruction in the South. Three hundred millions of dollars is an immense sum of money; you can hardly estimate how much. During Mr. Buchanan's administration, and when he had the Mormon war upon his hands the whole expense of the Government was about $85,000,000 a year for all purposes, for civil purposes as well as military—but little more than one-fourth of what the single item of Congressional policy now costs this people. Yet a storm was raised against Mr. Buchanan, and the country was stirred to a degree of excitement never till that time known, because, it was said, he was profligate and was spending too much of the people's money. Mr. Wade, Mr. Sherman and the rest of the politicians of Ohio, how is this thing? Tell the people sum to carry out this policy. A policy will carry itself if it is just and right. You are paying this to elevate the black man, to enfranchise him to give power to him, to send him to Congress to make laws for you. You are not only thus degrading yourselves, but you are footing the bill at the same time. But this is not all. This black race is so wise that it ought, in Radical estimation, to govern the country; so wise that it ought to vote here in Ohio; so elevated and so loyal that it must control States; and yet, in the same breath, it is admitted that you must feed and clothe the negro out of your pockets, by supporting the enormity called the Freedmen's Bureau—a part of the Congressional policy of reconstruction. This is a measure that taxes white laborers to feed and clothe black loafers. The Freedmen's Bureau is costing the people of this nation $65,000,000 a year. Add this sum which you pay to clothe and feed this inferior race in idleness while it does the voting, to the $300,000,000 that sustains the standing army to protect the negro in the right to vote, and you have the sum of $365,000,000 a year for the Congressional policy. There are just 365 days in a year, and a million of dollars a day is the tax-gatherer's bill for the benefit of the negro of the South.

Nothing can add to or diminish the strength of this statement. It is the truth, the ever living truth, that I am proclaiming in the ears of a tax-ridden and much abused people. He who cannot dig a living out of the face of the earth, deserves not a living upon the bosom of his mother earth; and if the black man cannot work for his food and clothes I will not say, let him starve for we would feed him in charity, but it is not a supposable case that he cannot work. He can work; he is said to be a "man and brother." I will go with the radical part of the way, and agree that he is a man, and has thumbs and sinews and stout bone and muscle, and can work as well as the white man. No Freedmen's Bureau was made to assist you pioneers of Ohio when you came here fifty years ago. You came here with your wives, then young and blooming, when the wilds of Ohio were unbroken. No Freedmen's Bureau helped you along; you toiled for your bread. How changed are affairs now. On the fertile plains of the South today, with the fruitful sun shining down upon them, inviting the stalwart arm of labor, high wages are paid. Why shall not the negro there work as you worked here? Why not be done at once, and forever, with this most infernal and intolerable nuisance called a Freedmen's Bureau? Strike off $65,000,000 there. My friend down there, in a brogue that has always been sweet to my ears, says that he thought Ireland was the only country that had ever been tax-ridden and oppressed to such an extent. No! no people under the shining course of the sun pay as much taxes as you pay. The enormous sums that I have yet to speak of, added to those I have mentioned, show you to be the most heavily taxed people on the face of the entire earth. The standing army of France costs not as much as yours. The armies of England whose boast it is that the sun never goes down upon her drum-beat—that oppresses Ireland, and holds the East in her iron grasp—do not tax her people so heavily as our standing army taxes the American people. The czar of Russia, the great bear of the North, with one paw menacing Europe, and the other Asia, with all his military strength does not grind his sorbs so cruelly as our present policy under our military commanders, grinds this people. I do not mention the military commanders to denounce them. I am denouncing the law that called them into being; I am denouncing the law that costs $500,000,000 a year to overthrow America. Liberty in nearly one-half of your country.

You have a mighty financial question before you. I do not pretend to be the greatest financier in the country. I make no professions upon that subject at all. But there are certain great, bold, plain facts that you and I can talk about here to day, in plainness and simplicity, as we would around the fireside. During the war we became deeply indebted. The public debt now amounts to about $2,600,000,000. A large portion of it, nearly $2,000,000,000, is what I may call the people's promissory notes. They are generally known as government bonds. What is a government bond? It is a paper issued by the government, by your representatives in behalf of you, the people, upon your credit and your credit alone, and is your note, made, executed and signed by your agents at Washington, to pay so much money in a certain length of time. You have nearly $2,000,000,000 of these notes out, that some day or other, in some way or other you or your posterity will have to pay. Gentlemen of Ohio, men of Morgan county, you are in debt. Your farms are all mortgaged, every foot and acre that you own is mortgaged, to pay your notes that are out. They are called bonds, but they are simply your promises to pay. They are in the hands of a certain class of men. They bear heavy interest. Twice a year the tax-gatherer comes to collect from you; yes, he is about you every day. You pay taxes in every form. The tax-gatherer is invisible; he is about you all the time. You pay taxes on the bonds while you eat, and while you wear out your clothes; even while you sleep you are paying taxes on this mighty debt. Remember the tax principal, it only, pays the interest. You will say at once, "that is an appalling spectacle for us and for our chil-

and six hundred millions of dollars is an immense sum of money, amounting, according to an estimate I saw the other day, to a large sum to each voter, and then for each man, woman and child in the United States. I will not go into these minutiae. You will ask me how these men received your notes. When your currency was deranged, and, in order to induce the people to purchase these notes, a law was passed by which they should pay no taxes upon the government bonds that they held. The deranged state of the currency enabled them to buy these bonds at rates of from forty to sixty cents on the dollar. If to-day the people should repudiate the entire public debt—which I am not for, but opposed to—the bond-holders, by the interest they have already received, would be paid nearly, if not quite, all that the bonds originally cost them.

The remedy proposed by Mr. Voorhees was that the bond-holders should pay taxes upon their bonds. If they will not submit to taxation, what then am I for? I am then for doing what all nations have had to do before, that is, to reduce the rate of interest. Our debts bear an average interest now of six per cent. I am for reducing it to three per cent., if no further. One half of your interest shall go, you bond-holders, if you won't pay taxes. If you won't pay taxes, we won't pay interest. We will send you only half of what you send for instead of all of it. What do you think of that, then? That is a way of lessening the burden just one half. If they won't submit to that and keep the power, there comes another method by which this thing can be done. Let us commence paying their bonds as they fall due, in the same kind of money that they make you take for whatever you own in this world.

Hemlock Leather & Kerosene Oil.—Any person wishing to purchase a good article of Hemlock Leather and Kerosene Oil, can do so by applying to J. M. Carroll, west side of the public square.

Several varieties of Dromgoole & Co.'s valuable Medicines can now be obtained at the Jacksonville Drug Store.

New Sewing Machine.—We examined the other day a new Sewing Machine, manufactured by Bliss & McCathorn, of Louisville, Ky. This is called the "Common Sense Family Sewing Machine," and comes nearer being what the name indicates, than any of the machines we have ever examined, by its simplicity of construction, its durability, and freedom from complication and liability to get out of order, and if it should, can easily be understood in all its parts, and repaired or put in order by any lady using it. It works smoothly, neatly and rapidly, and is warranted by the manufacturers to perform good work for three years. It is cheap and we have little doubt but it will be found more useful and valuable than many descriptions of machines which cost more than three times its price.

Mr. J. M. Forbes, of Oxford, is agent for the sale of these machines in this State, and will take the names of persons who may desire them, and deliver the machines at any specified time. Mr. F. will pass through the country, and exhibit a model machine, and in his absence, a note addressed to him at Oxford will be attended to.

CHILLS AND FEVER.

Can the Chills be cured in every instance without affecting the head? Is there no medicine that will satisfy one people, that will permanently eradicate all forms of Chills and Fever? Yes, it can be done. What is its name and where can it be had?

KING OF CHILLS

Is to-day, the most worthy and substantial Chills medicine now before the Southern people. It never fails to give the most perfect satisfaction in every respect. Every phlegmation should buy one dozen bottles at a time.

BILIOUS FEVER

Which is so common on all our rivers, lakes, bayous, swamps, etc. can be easily cured by using our "King of Chills" which immediately arouses the Liver, cleanses the Stomach, opens the Bowels, and never fails to cure the worst forms of Chills and Fever. Chills are so easily cured by its use, that it is folly to suffer any longer.

We appeal to all who suffer with chills.

DRONGOOLE & CO.'S

POETRY.

TO DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS.

Should you ask why this dunning,
Why these sad complaints and murmurs,
Who have read the paper weekly,
Read what they have never paid for.
Read with pleasure and with profit,
Read of state affairs and prospects,
Read of news both home and foreign,
Read the essays and the poems,
Full of wisdom and instruction,
Read the fascinating stories
Faithfully inserted weekly:

Should you ask why this dunning,
We should answer, we should tell you—
From our grocer, from our butcher,
From Sam Taylor paper-maker,
From our land lord—lots of others,
From the man who takes the letters
With a stamp from Uncle Samuel—
Uncle Sam, the rowdies call him.
From them all there comes a message—
Message kind, but firmly spoken,
"Please to pay us what you owe us."

Sad it is to hear such message,
When our funds are all exhausted,
When the last greenback has left us,
When the gold coin all has vanished,
Gone to pay the paper-maker,
Gone to pay the toiling printer,
Gone to pay the landlord tribute,
Gone to pay the faithful mailer,
Gone to pay old Uncle Samuel—
Uncle Sam, the rowdies call him.

Sad it is to turn our ledger,
Turn the leaves of our old ledger,
Turn and see what sums are due us;
Due for years of pleasant reading,
Due despite our patient waiting,
Due despite our constant dunning,
Due in sums from two to twenty.

Would you lift a burden from us?
Would you drive a spectre from us?
Would you taste a pleasant slumber?
Would you have a quiet conscience?
Would you read a paper paid for?
Send us payment—send us payment,
Send the payment: that you owe us!

THE MEETING.

I met her in the quiet lane
One Sabbath morning early;
The sun was bright, although the rain
Still glittered on the barley.
The lark was singing to his mate,
The wild bells chimed their warning,
We paused awhile outside the gate,
We lingered till it was too late
To go to church that morning.

Again we met The whispering leaves
Glanced nigh in sight and shadow;
The reapers piled the yellow sheaves;
The bees hum'd o'er the meadow,
The royal sun rose up in state,
Our marriage day adorning;
The bells rung out; wide stood the gate,
And neither of us was too late
To go to church that morning.

THE KIND-HEARTED TANNER.

The following incident is so beautiful and touching, that it should be read by every household in the country. It developes the true, active principles of kindness. How many a man, making his first step in crime, might be redeemed by the exercise of this sublime trait
in the character of the kind-hearted Quaker.

Wm. Savery, an eminent mini-ter among the Quakers, was a tanner by trade.
One night a quantity of hides were stolen from his tannery, and he had reason to believe that the thief was a quarrelsome, drunken neighbor called John Smith. Next week the following advertisement appeared in the county
newspaper:

"Whoever stole a quantity of hides on the fifth of this month, is hereby informed that the owner has a sincere wish to be his friend. If poverty tempted him to take this false step, the owner will keep the affair secret, and will gladly put him in the way of obtaining money by means more likely to bring peace of mind."

This singular advertisement attracted considerable attention, but the culprit alone knew who had made the kind offer. When he read it his heart melted within him and he was filled with sorrow for what had done. A few nights afterwards, as the tanner's family were about retiring to rest, they heard a timid knock, and when the door was opened, there stood John Smith, with a load of hides upon his shoulders. Without looking up, he said:

"I have brought these back Mr.
Savery; where shall I put them?"
"Wait till I get a lantern, and I will go to the barn with thee," he replied,
"then thou wilt come in and tell me how this happened. We will see what can be done for thee."

As soon as they were gone out, his wife prepared some hot coffee, and placed pies and meat on the table. When they returned from the barn, she said:
"Neighbor Smith, I thought some hot supper would be good for thee."
He turned his back towards her, and did not speak. After leaving against the fire-place in silence for a few moments, he said in a choked voice:

"It is the first time I ever stole anything, and I have felt very badly about it. I'm sure I didn't once think that I should ever come to what I am. But I took to drinking, and then to quarreling. Since I began to go down hill, everybody gives me a kick. You are the only one who has been kind to me."

hand. My wife is sick and my children starving. You have sent them many a meal. God bless you! but yet I stole the hides. But I tell you the truth when I say it is the first time I was ever a thief."

"Let it be the last, my friend," replied Wm. Savery. "The secret lies between ourselves. Thou art still young, and it is in thy power to make up for lost time. Promise me thou wilt not drink any intoxicating liquor for a year, and I will employ thee to-morrow on good wages. Thy little boy can pick up stones. But eat a bit now, and drink some hot coffee; perhaps it will keep thee from craving anything stronger to-night. Doubtless thou wilt find it hard to abstain at first; but keep up a brave heart for the sake of thy wife and children, and it will soon become easy. When thou hast need of coffee, tell Mary and she will give it to thee."

The poor fellow tried to eat and drink but the food seemed to choke him. After vainly trying to be composed he bowed his head on the table, and wept like a child. After a while he ate and drank, and his host parted with him for the night with the friendly words, "Try to do well, John, and thou wilt always find a friend in me." John entered his employ the next day, and remained with him many years, a sober, honest and steady man. The secret was kept between them; but after John's death, William Savery sometimes told the story,
to prove that evil might be overcome with good.

"I'm a gone sucker," as the boy said
when he was weaned.

"I never shot a bird in my life," said a friend to an Irishman, who replied: "I never shot anything in the shape of a bird, but a squirrel, which I kill with a stone, when it fell into the river and was drowned."

Why are good resolutions like fainting ladies? They want carrying out.

A laborer in an ice house down East,
was killed by a large lump of ice falling on his head. Verdict of the jury—
'Died of hard drink.'

"I want you to explain the points of the compass. Bobby, what is the highest latitude known?"

"The highest latitude known is that which Bill Jones allows to his feelings when waiting for his Bets."
"Now, what is before you, John?"
"The north, sir."
"And what behind you, Tommy?"
"My coat tail, sir."
"Joseph, where is Africa?"
"On the map, sir."

"I mean on what continent, the eastern or western?"

"Well, the land of Africa is on the eastern continent, but the people all of
'em are down South."

"How do the American people live?"
"By drawing."
"By drawing what—water?"
"No, sir; by drawing their breath."
"Come here, Billy, and tell me what the four seasons are."

"Pepper, mustard, salt and vinegar;
them is what we seasons with."
"Geography class dismissed."

An old fellow in North Carolina, who got drunk justified himself on the ground that a pledge of abstinence he had lately signed was without a stamp.

Influence and Poetry.

The Bureau man at Montgomery will have an interesting time opening envelopes containing the votes of the freedmen. Many of the newly enfranchised sovereigns, after obtaining their tickets already made out at the Bureau here mailed them to the Bureau at Montgomery. One sapient gentleman deposited his ticket in the post office without the envelope. Another, after drawing his ticket, exclaimed, "Hurra for General Pope and the Freedman's Bureau! I is free as any white man. I is gwine strait home and show dis ticket to my wife, den I gwine to catch one big possum to-night."

NEW WOOL FACTORY,

At McKibben's old stand on Chocoma Creek, 7 1/2 miles below Oxford and 2 1/2 above Munford. This Splendid Machinery has been purchased with a view to suit the wants of the Southern people, being clothed entirely with a superior quality of ENGLISH CARDS, it cannot fail to give satisfaction where the wool is properly prepared. Wool will be conveyed from the Depot at Munford and returned free of charge.
Our old friends and the public generally are respectfully invited to call and examine our machinery.

MONTVALE SPRINGS—1867.

THIS popular Summer resort, having been
placed in thorough repair, and furnished
with new furniture, will be opened for visitors on the 1st of June under the direction and control of the undersigned proprietors of the American Hotel, Atlanta Ga.
Montvale presents the strongest attractions
to both the invalid and pleasure seeker, no
less on account of its retirement and the beauty of its surrounding scenery, than of the restorative powers of its waters. We have reduced the price of board to the lowest figures
consistent with a proper provision for the entertainment of our guests.
Board per day $3 00, per week $20 00,
per month $60 00, with an allowance for
families. Travelers by rail reach the Springs by special conveyance from Loudon, or by regular daily mail coaches from Knoxville
Tenn.

HERE'S YOUR STOVE!

The Home Comfort!
H. G. NOBLE,
DEALER IN

Tin Ware Stoves, &c.

HAS the pleasure of informing the public that the above named COOK-ING STOVES, which is rapidly coming into use, has arrived, and can be seen at his Shop, Corner of Alabama and Franklin streets. Having the advantage of twenty-five years' experience in the business, he can safely recommend the "Home Comfort" as being superior to any other ever offered in this market. It is more convenient, durable and economical, and therefore the most desirable.
Call and see for yourself.

A LECTURE on the Nature Treatment, and Radical Cure of Seminal weakness or Spermatorrhea, induced by self-abuse; Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, Menstrual & Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CUL-VERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green
Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of self-
abuse may be effectually removed without
medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cor-
dials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer,
no matter what his condition may be, may
cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
This Lecture will prove a Boon to
thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's
"Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address

CHEAP PRINTING PAPER.

To Editors and Publishers.

LETTER FROM W. G. CLARK, Esq., PRESIDENT
OF THE SOUTHERN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

ATLANTA, April 19, 1867.

J. S. Thrasher Esq.:
Dear Sir:—It affords me much pleasure to
communicate to you the following resolution
of the Southern Press Association.
Resolved, "That as a testimonial of our appreciation for the zealous, faithful and effective service of John S. Thrasher, Esq., as Superintendent of this Association in years
past, we hereby tender him the thanks of this Association, and con' r upon him the complimentary position of Agent of the Southern Press Association in the City of New York."
The terms of commendation employed in
the above resolution do no more than justice
to your important services during your Su-
perintendency—services which none can more
highly appreciate than myself. Should occasion require, I shall be glad to avail myself
of the aid provided for, by the resolution.
Very Respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
W. G. CLARK, President.

NOTICE.
I would respectfully request every daily,
tri-weekly, semi-weekly, weekly and monthly
journal South of the Potomac and Ohio
rivers and the 36 deg. 30 min. parallel of latitude West of the Mississippi, to publish this
advertisement twice, and send to me at New York, each time, a copy of the paper containing it, post paid, with bill for the same.
It is desirable in my combinations to secure cheaper printing paper for our Southern
journals, that I shall have the fullest information regarding the sizes of paper used by
the several publications, and I can procure it
in no other way than by requesting particular attention to the need of sending copy of
the publication with the bill.
I desire it sent twice to provide against mail
failures, and that they be postpaid to secure
post office delivery.
J. S. THRASHER,
Box 6399 New York, N. Y.

GROVESTEE & CO.

Piano Forte Manufacturers,

499, Broadway, New York.

THE attention of the public and the trade
is invited to our New Scale, Seven Octave, Rosewood Piano Forte, which for volume and purity of tone are unrivalled by any hitherto offered in this market. They contain all the modern improvements—French grand action, harp pedal, iron
frame, over-strung bass, etc.—and each instrument being made under the personal supervision of Mr. J. H. GROVESTEE, who has a practical experience of over thirty years in
their manufacture, is fully warranted in every particular.

The "Grovestee Piano-Forte"

Received the highest award of merit at the celebrated World's Fair.

Where were exhibited instruments from the
best makers of London, Paris, Germany,
Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and New York;
and also at the American Institute for five
successive years, the GOLD and SILVER MEALS
from both of which can be seen at our ware-
rooms.

By the introduction of improvements we
make a still more perfect Piano-Forte, and by
manufacturing largely, with a strict cash system, are enabled to offer these instruments at
a price which will preclude all competition.
Our prices are from $100 to $200 cheaper
than any other first-class Piano-Forte.
Terms—Net cash in current funds.
Descriptive circulars sent FREE.

Sabbath Schools and Churches in the Town,
as parents may direct.

As to health, good society, and opportunities for religious instruction, Jacksonville presents advantages equal, if not superior to those of any Village or Town in Alabama.

Lectures will be delivered to the whole school, at least, once every two weeks,
on some practical, moral or religious topic.

Board can be had in good families on reasonable terms.
